Use of Your Photo, Video Image, Audio, and Name

Executive Women in Texas Government (EWTG) creates a variety of marketing campaigns and programs using videos, photos, other recorded images, and/or audio recordings of our events. Attendees at any EWTG event, including an event hosted by an EWTG Affiliate, may be featured in videos, photos, and other recorded images, and/or through audio recordings, as part of our campaigns and programs. Your attendance at such an event is your grant of authority to EWTG to video, photograph, or otherwise record your image or voice during the event and further is your grant of rights to EWTG to publish and broadcast your video, photograph, or other recorded image, and/or audio recording of your voice through any commercial device, website, and broadcast media in existence today and the future. Further your attendance does not create any obligation on the part of EWTG to compensate you for use of your video, photo, other recorded image, and/or audio recording of your voice.

By becoming a member of EWTG or by attending any EWTG event as a non-member, you grant EWTG permission to publish any video, photo, or audio recording of you during any EWTG event. The publication of any video, photo, other recorded image and/or audio recording of you may or may not include your name.

The EWTG name, brand, and logo cannot be used by any person or entity unless first receiving written authorization from EWTG. No photo, audio, video, or text appearing on the EWTG website may be used without first receiving written authorization from EWTG.
