

FPA of Metro New York 20th Annual Forum

Robert Powell

Editor

TheStreet's Retirement Daily; USA TODAY; Retirement Management Journal

Robert Powell is editor of Retirement Daily, published by TheStreet.com; editor of the Retirement Management Journal, published by the Investments and Wealth Institute; and a retirement columnist for USA TODAY. A financial journalist since 1986, his work has appeared in The Wall Street Journal, the Financial Times, AARP magazine, and MarketWatch. Previously, he served as a managing director of DALBAR. Powell began his career in the financial services industry in 1984 as a registered representative for what was then called Dean Witter Reynolds. Over the years, he has played key roles in the development of the Boston University Online Program for Financial Planning program as well as the Retirement Management Adviser program. Powell is also a member of the Swampscott Council on Aging board, the Swampscott Retirement board, and the Swampscott Age-Friendly board.