

PERSON, PLACE, & THING:
BEYOND THE NOUN OF LEADERSHIP

2020-2022

SEMINAR 4

Self-Paced Module

Questions of Praxis

William C. Friday
Fellowship FOR HUMAN RELATIONS

Praxis matters.

The Friday Fellowship is a process and product, and also a group of people. A container and community, the fellowship invites Fellows to participate in an applied, practical learning collaborative. Each Fellow is invited to full participation in the fellowship's core values and practices. Taken together, the fellowship's values, keywords, practices, and teachings constitute a praxis of human relations.

Questions of Praxis – What is the relationship between practice and praxis?

Wildacres Leadership Initiative (WLI) hosts the Friday Fellowship as a program of human relations. On the hunt for (and in honor of) all kinds of relations, would you spend some time connecting the dots? There are no right or wrong answers – just different ways to understand what we are working with and creating.

When People Matter

People are to _____, as _____ is to _____.

When Place Matters

Place is to _____, as _____ is to _____.

When Things Matter

Stones are to _____, as incense is to _____,
as drums are to _____.

When Pages Matter

Bohm is to _____, as Freire and Horton are to _____,
as Wheatley is to _____, as Headlee is to _____,
as Turkle is to _____, as Parker is to _____.

When Fellowship Matters

_____ is to _____, as _____ is to _____.

Person, Place, & Thing:

Beyond the Noun of Leadership

William C. Friday
Fellowship FOR HUMAN
RELATIONS