Dear Potential Sponsor:

Your local region of the Florida Section American Water Works Association (FSAWWA-Region V) is proud to announce the first annual Model Water Tower Competition (MWTC) to be held on January 31, 2015 at Florida Gulf Coast University. This competition provides students with a fun-filled, science-oriented competition aimed at introducing middle and high school students to engineering and the water profession. This competition requires students to design and build a water tower according to specific guidelines. The towers are judged based on four specified categories including: cost efficiency, hydraulic efficiency, structural efficiency, and design ingenuity. Grand Prizes will be awarded to the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place water tower models in the amount of $300, $200, and $100, respectively.

FSAWWA is a nonprofit, scientific, and educational association dedicated to improving drinking water for people in the State of Florida. Florida Section American Water Works Association, Region V is soliciting sponsorship opportunities for MWTC 2015 and is pleased to invite you to partner with us and participate with other Region V middle/high school students in this unique competition.

This will be a great opportunity to give back to your local communities and promote scientific and technical education among school children in and around the central Florida region. MWTC has been a tremendous success in the past with increasing number of students that participate every year. This event is well attended and draws a diverse audience including professional engineers, business leaders, government utility representatives, and school teachers from the Region V area.

We hope that you will partner with us to make this a successful event and help place our area on the national map as a community that recognizes and promotes scientific and technical education.

Sponsorship information is included at the end of this letter. For more information, please contact any one of us at the numbers or emails listed below. On behalf of all the communities served by FSAWWA, we thank you for your support.

Regards,

Kris Samples
