

Enhance your finance-related internship this summer with WALL STREET EXCHANGE

“WSE was the perfect supplement to my internship. It allowed me to greatly sharpen my skills and broaden my network. I highly recommend WSE to anyone interested in a career in the financial industry.”

— Pia Matthes,
Mount Holyoke 2014

Wall Street Exchange has been helping young women and men navigate the competitive financial job market for over 36 years.

WSE is not an internship; it is a career development program designed to augment and coincide with your summer internship experience.

Enhance your job search skills, learn about leadership skills, and think strategically about career choices. Participate in nine weekly events that will help strengthen your skills and prepare you to execute a successful full-time job search within finance and other related fields such as technology, engineering, or math.

Participation benefits include:

- Enhancing job search skills through workshops on resume writing, interview techniques, business etiquette, and more
- Developing leadership techniques and other soft skills necessary to execute a successful job search
- Building a professional network with fellow program participants and interns and employees from sponsor firms

ACCEPTANCE TO WSE IS COMPETITIVE.

APPLICATIONS WILL OPEN IN 1ST QUARTER 2020.

To qualify, you must have completed your junior year of college and have:

- A goal to obtain a paid summer internship in the New York City area with a financial services firm or within a financial function at a non-financial firm
- A minimum cumulative G.P.A. of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale
- An interest in exploring a career in finance or business
- A fully complete application containing all requested information
