

ENGAGE WITH ISDS

Congratulations! You are now an ISDS member! Get started by following the steps below to take advantage of our online resources and make the most of your ISDS membership.

Step 1 – Create and/or Login to Your Account

Login in to www.healthsurveillance.org. If you haven't already set one up, register for a free account and sign in. Be sure to select a Primary Community Group to join!

Registration Information

Username

First Name

Last Name

Community Group

✓ Please Select

- Community Groups: Awards Sub-Committee
- Community Groups: ESSENCE User Group
- Community Groups: Literature Review Sub-Committee
- Community Groups: NSSP Community of Practice
- Community Groups: OHS Literature Review Sub-Committee
- Community Groups: Urgent Care Sub-Committee
- Community Groups: One Health Surveillance Community of Practice
- Community Groups: R Group for Biosurveillance

Step 2 – Join a Group

Browse through our list of groups to join on https://www.healthsurveillance.org/members/group_select.asp. Once you find a group you are interested in, visit its page and click on the button that either says "Join Group" or "Request Membership."

Request Membership

Join Group

Step 3 – Engage

Once your group membership request is approved, you're all set to start engaging with your fellow group members! Check the group's calendar to register for upcoming group meetings. Visit the group's forums to contribute to existing conversations or post new topics. Also, if applicable, check out the group's blogs to read the latest news from the group leadership.

Group Directory

Calendar

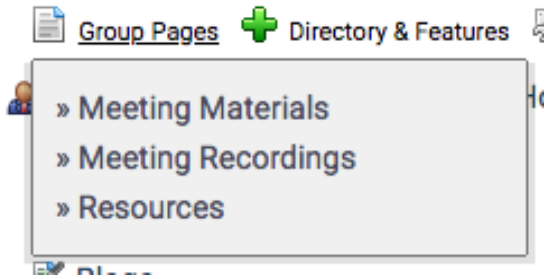

Blogs

Forums

Don't forget! Groups will have additional pages setup where you can find group resources. Click the "Group Pages" icon to find these additional pages.

Be an active participant! A thriving community is an active one.