

Meet one of the reasons you will not want to miss HRPBC's 2019 "Connecting and Influencing for Success" Conference?

Conference Breakout Speaker Liz Weber

President of Weber Business Services LLC, a management consulting firm which provides strategic and succession planning, executive coaching, and comprehensive leadership training programs to business owners, leaders, executive teams, and boards of directors. Liz is fewer than 100 people in the U.S. to hold a Certified Speaking Professional (CSP) and Certified Management Consultant (CMC) designations.

Her Conference Topic: "Becoming Influential HR (Because you're not influential enough now)" Business Credits pending

Are strategic and personnel decisions made without your input? Do other members of the management team treat you as an adversary instead of an advisor? Would you like to learn why you are NOT viewed as an influential voice and respected HR Professional? Liz will share answers to these frustrations far too many HR professionals face regularly. Liz will share how savvy and strategic HR professionals can build credibility, highlight their value, and become the trusted and respected influential HR professionals their organizations need.
