$2,240 to Fund Literacy and Break the Cycle of Poverty

Every page in this catalog represents a $40 donation to the global literacy charity NABU.

The Independent Book Publishers Association (IBPA) is proud to partner with NABU to help solve the global literacy crisis by developing and providing free access to new children's books in native languages.

At 56 pages, this fall 2022 "Indie Titles for Your Consideration" catalog raised $2,240 on behalf of IBPA member publishers for NABU programs. As a leading publisher of multilingual children's books, NABU uses technology to accelerate children's literacy through a love of reading in their mother tongue. NABU explains, "With over 1 million children served through the NABU app and other programs, NABU has built a huge distribution channel for educational content in low income communities, and is the leading publisher of bi-lingual English and mother tongue children's books in key underserved countries globally."

NABU is currently in seven countries; has over 2,000 Trained Reading Ambassadors; has published more than 350 titles in fifteen languages; has trained over 60 local artists in digital art skills; and has served over 1.1 million children. See for yourself! You'll find four of NABU's titles featured on page 26 of this catalog.

IBPA members include independent publishers, hybrid publishers, author publishers (a.k.a. self-published authors), university presses, and association presses. We hope you'll take some time to explore their titles featured in these pages. With more than 160 books to choose from, there's something for every reader!

With respect and appreciation for all you do,
