IBPA members donate over $8,000 to the global literacy nonprofit NABU

I am pleased to share that with this Summer 2023 IBPA Bookstore Catalog, IBPA members have donated a total of $8,160 to NABU. Through NABU’s Authentic Book Creation Lab program, these funds provide a one-year sponsorship to three local artists who will be trained to write and illustrate children’s books in mother tongue languages in regions where few exist. Husna Ismail, one of NABU’s illustrators in Kenya, said, “I love illustrating for NABU books because they are so relatable to African children and the setting is in Africa, and we get to illustrate characters that when the children read the book and see the illustrations, they can see themselves in them... It’s very fulfilling to work with what you love, and do what you love for a living.”

As part of IBPA’s partnership with NABU, IBPA member publishers submitted over 75 children’s picture books for the NABU team to consider for translation into one of the mother tongue languages spoken by the populations NABU serves. NABU aims to put culturally responsive and mother tongue stories into the hands of young people and empower them through literacy... which can break the cycle of poverty and change the world. You can see four of NABU’s titles on page 26.

IBPA members include independent publishers, hybrid publishers, author publishers (a.k.a. self-published authors), university presses, nonprofits, and association presses. We hope you’ll explore some of their titles featured in these pages. With more than 130 fiction, nonfiction, adult, children’s, and YA titles, there’s something wonderful for every reader.

With respect and appreciation for all you do,

Sincerely,

Andrea Fleck-Nisbet
Chief Executive Officer, Independent Book Publishers Association
