

ICA - 2019 Preconference
 Expanding Computational Communication:
 Towards a Pipeline for Graduate Students and Early Career Scholars

Date: May 24th 2019
 Attendance Fee: 100$ (Faculty), 60$ (Graduate Student)
 Location: American University - Constitutional Hall, Room 3, Washington D.C.

Time	Topic	Speakers
8:30 - 9:00	Breakfast and Introductions
9:00 - 10:00	Identity
	Introducing the Computational Methods Interest Group	Josephine Lukito Nate TeBlunthuis Frederic Hopp
10:00 to 11:15	Learning to Code
	Becoming a Computational Communication Scholar	Fabienne Lind Hajo Boomgaarden
	Teaching Programs	Michael Scharkow
11:15 to 12:15	Technical Considerations
	State-of-the-art Text Processing	Kasper Welbers
	Data Retrieval and Management	Frederic Hopp
12:15 to 13:30	Lunch
13:30 to 14:30	Theory and Computation
	Organizational Communication	Nate TeBlunthuis Jeremy Foote
	Framing & Agenda-Setting	Josephine Lukito
	Partisan Bias in Media Use	JungHwan Yang
14:30 to 16:00	Breakout Session
	Building the Pipeline
16:00 to 16:30	Closing Remarks

Questions/Information: fhopp@ucsb.edu
 @ica_cm <http://ica-cm.org/>