Standards Engineering - The Journal of The Society for Standards Professionals (SES) article that discussed how to get rid of mold that could be making families sick. Read the full story here.

ANSI/IICRC S520 Professional Mold Remediation Standard was quoted in a New York Times Parenting article. Scott Armour, chair of the IICRC Mold Removal Specialist Certification and vice-chair of the Professional Certification Board, wrote about the importance of proper mold remediation.

The IICRC Business Academy offers health and safety training for professionals in the restoration industry. The 10-Hour General Industry Training provides broad safety training, while the Health and Safety Technician (HST) Course is designed to put professionals ahead of the competition regarding health and safety. The two-day, 14-hour course covers topics such as OSHA standards, inspections, citations and penalties, record keeping, personal protective equipment (PPE), hazard communication, and hazardous materials.

OSHA 10-Hour General Industry Training provides broad safety training for inspection, cleaning, and restoration professionals. Those who previously earned their Master Designations with OSHA 10-Hour General Industry Training or equivalent for the Health and Safety Technician (HST) Course for Master Designations will no longer be accepted through October 31, 2020.

Beginning November 1, 2020, the IICRC will no longer accept the 10-Hour General Industry Training HST equivalent for those who previously earned their Master Designations.

Are you a Certified Firm or Triple Master interested in being in our Spotlights section of IICRCToday? If you are interested in providing a testimonial to appear on the IICRC homepage, contact IICRC Marketing for more information.

Insured losses resulting from Hurricane Dorian in the Caribbean was $3.4 billion. The 2019 season yielded 18 named storms, six of which became hurricanes.

Chats with the Chairman - Tune in for "Chats with the Chairman" for interviews with the IICRC Chair of the Board.

Nominations are now open for the IICRC Hall of Fame Awards. Qualifications for nominees include having at least 25 years working in the restoration industry and a demonstrated commitment to the IICRC industry.

Registration for the Annual Instructors Meeting (AIM) is open. The meeting will be Saturday, October 3, 2020, at the Golden Nugget Hotel & Casino in Las Vegas, NV. Due to COVID-19 concerns, the IICRC rescheduled its AIM for 2020.

Visit the Standards Summit Event Page to learn more about the Second-Annual Standards Summit.

IICRC STANDARDS & THE PROFESSION" is the current issue of IICRCToday. The third edition of "IICRC STANDARDS & THE PROFESSION" is available now.

If the 15th falls on a weekend, the episode will air the weekday prior. Watch the video here.

Don't forget your live-stream exam fee prior to taking your live-stream course. Make sure you've paid your live-stream exam fee prior to taking your live-stream course.

If you are interested in providing a testimonial to appear on the IICRC homepage, contact IICRC Marketing for more information.

The IICRC is happy to announce that Peter Edelstein has been selected as the 2020 Hall of Fame inductee.