About Illinois Technology Association and Membership

ITA is focused on scaling Illinois tech companies. We aren't a place you "go" – we are a network you access, a resource you leverage, an advisor you trust. We understand that your needs, as a large company, are much different than those of start-up and growth-stage companies here in Illinois.

At ITA you'll find other industry players who recognize the value of being a leader in the community. Industry leaders who are building their employment brands and are working to solidify themselves as the key technology leaders in Chicago - firms like Google, Jellyvision - are helping us build the Chicago tech community for the next decade.
