

THE IPSIS ASIA-PACIFIC CONGRESS

HONG KONG

21 NOVEMBER 2026

Presented in conjunction with the Orthopaedic Learning Centre, The Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK), and held at Prince of Wales Hospital, this high-impact program covers key topics in interventional pain medicine through focused lectures, interactive Q&A sessions, and networking opportunities with IPSIS Board members, including Dr. Allen S. Chen (MD, MBA); Dr. Lisa Huynh (MD); Dr. Vinil Shah (MD); and IPSIS President Dr. Zachary L. McCormick (MD), together with CUHK Co-Course Director Dr. S.W. Law (MD).

Sessions cover examination, diagnosis, fluoroscopic imaging, and evidence-based interventional approaches for:

- LUMBAR SPINE
- SACROILIAC REGION
- CERVICAL SPINE
- DISCOGENIC AND VERTEBROGENIC PAIN

Registration is now open for IPSIS members residing in Hong Kong. If space remains after 1 September 2026, physicians in eligible Asia-Pacific countries may also be invited to register. VISIT IPSISMED.ORG/HONGKONG FOR DETAILS

Eligible members may also register for our foundational, hands-on IPSI International Outreach Course: Lumbar Bio-Skills Lab, a cadaver-based training experience following the Asia-Pacific Congress on 22 November.

香港中文大學醫學院
Faculty of Medicine
The Chinese University of Hong Kong

