New Brunswick Cab Card

Description: The New Brunswick IRP document serves both as a registration (ownership document) as well as a Cab Card to authorize travel in IRP jurisdictions. It is printed in both Canadian Official Languages (English and French). The document is approximately 8 ½" x 5 ½" in dimension. It is printed on 40 weight paper with a white background. There are two colors used by the manufacturer in pre-printing the document, which are green and maroon. The green is used primarily for titles of data element fields and instructions while the maroon fields are used for the form and department name and the shading of key data element boxes (i.e. plate number, effective date, expiry date, National Safety Code number, and signature area.).

The form is printed in two copies which are labeled as being:
Registered owner copy, and
Truck copy to be kept in vehicle

The "registered owner copy" has a transfer capability printed on the reverse side where the owner could "sign-off" the ownership of the vehicle in the event it was being sold. There is no reverse side printing on the "truck copy". Both forms are valid. NB issued two forms so that a carrier could retain one copy and the trucker would have an original for use in the vehicle. The form has the ability to show the broker name and address or both the broker name and address as well as the carrier’s name and address. All forms are pre-numbered by the manufacturer with an inventory control number that is printed in the maroon color and has the format “CC” followed by a variable six digit number, e.g.CC123456. There are no special security features built into the current form. There is an internal form number in the bottom right copy of each form which indicates the number assigned to this form by forms management as well as the month and year it was last revised, e.g. 78-9303 (1/02) is on the current form.
