Re: Saskatchewan Eliminates Licence Plate Stickers/Tags

Effective Nov. 1, 2012, SGI, the administrator for vehicle registration in Saskatchewan, will no longer be issuing licence plate stickers/tags.

Eliminating stickers/tags will result in annual savings of $100,000 for SGI, which will be redirected to support traffic safety enforcement technology, such as Automatic Licence Plate Recognition (ALPR) systems.

Blank stickers/tags will be issued upon renewal after Nov. 1 to cover existing expiry sticker/tags. Saskatchewan will continue to display an Apportioned indicator on all licence plates registered under the IRP.

Please pass this notice on to any administrative or enforcement officials that you feel would be appropriate.
