Christa Bankay, Rockwell Automation

Abstract: The cloud, mobility, big data, and security are all top of mind opportunities that are enabled by the expansion of the industrial adoption of the internet. Cisco estimates that over 52% of companies will migrate to cloud technology over the next 2 years. The adoption of tablet, phone, and pad devices provides huge opportunity and introduces another level of issues and concern. This technology is not going away and we are facilitating new ways to use this efficiently and securely.
