With 500 members in 1993, ISGD became the “International Society for Pediatric and Adolescent Diabetes” (ISPAD)

“Society” is likely to attract more attention...
On September 4, 1993, on the island of Kos, the members of the International Study Group of Diabetes in Children and Adolescents (ISGD), assembled at our 19th annual international scientific meeting and in the process of transforming ISGD into the International Society of Pediatric and Adolescent Diabetes (ISPAD), renew their Hippocratic Oath by proclaiming their commitment to implement the St Vincent Declaration to promote optimal health, social welfare, and quality of life for all children and adolescents with diabetes around the world by the year 2000 (Weber B, Brink S. Pediatrics 1994; 94: A26)
The participants (members, guests, family) on island of Kos and the 3 “L”: Loeb (Brussels), Laron (Israel), Lestradet (France), founders of the International Study Group on Diabetes in Children and Adolescents (ISGD), in Paris in 1974
