

Law and Regulation Affinity Group – ISTR 2016 Stockholm

The ISTR Law and Regulation Affinity Group met informally in Stockholm, as it generally does at each ISTR international conference. Traditionally the group has been a means for those interested in law, regulation, self-regulation and related topics to meet people with common interests; the group has not carried out programming as a group, organized panels, or conducted other activities. (If attendees wanted to organize more activities next time, in 2018, that would certainly be a possibility.)

At this meeting, participants introduced themselves and then talked informally about topics of interest, including fundraising regulation and a couple of other themes. A good time was had by all.
