Volunteer Performance in the Light of Organizational Success: A Systematic Literature Review | 基於組織成功的志願者績效：系統性文獻綜述

By: Englert, Benedikt; Helmig, Bernd, pp 1-28.

Abstract: Volunteers are crucial to the functioning of nonprofit organizations. Thus, researchers in various disciplines investigate volunteer performance, broadly defined as the value of individual volunteers' activities for the accomplishment of organizational goals. Yet a comprehensive overview is still missing. To structure this fragmented literature, the systematic review presented herein covers the antecedents and dimensions of individual volunteer performance in the light of organizational success discussed in 75 academic articles. With an integrated framework of volunteer performance, derived from theoretical considerations of organizational success and the ability-motivation-opportunity framework, this article suggests a systematic classification of current scientific knowledge about the antecedents and dimensions of volunteer performance. In turn, this review offers two instructive research avenues helping to develop a holistic picture of the antecedents and dimensions of individual volunteer performance.

摘要：志願者對於非營利組織的運作至關重要。因此，不同學科的研究人員都對志願者績效進行了考察，這一概念被廣泛定義為志願者個人的活動為實現組織目標所帶來的價值。然而目前仍缺少一個全面的概述。為了結構化散碎的文獻，本文系統性的回顧覆蓋了 75 篇學術文章中討論的基於組織成功的個人志願者績效。本文從對於組織成功和能力-動力-機會框架的理論考量出發，發展出一個綜合性的志願者績效框架，從而提出對當前關於志願者績效的前因、維度的科學知識進行系統分類。反過來，這一回顧提供了兩個有啟發性研究路徑，有助於了解個人志願者績效的前因、維度的整體情況。

The Effects of Volunteerism on Self-Deception and Locus of Control | 志願主義對自我欺騙和控制點的影響

By: Desai, Naman; Dalal, Sharvari; Rawal, Saurabh, pp 83-92.

Abstract: This study examines whether volunteering for not-for-profit Organizations (NPOs) which are involved in providing social welfare services and which actively promote sociobehavioral factors like social responsibility, leadership, and self-confidence among its volunteers, reduces an individual's likelihood of engaging in corrupt practices. We identify two psychological traits: propensity to rationalize (as evidenced by self-deception) and an external locus of control (as compared to an internal LOC) that facilitate unethical behavior. With the help of volunteers from two NPOs, we investigate whether engaging in social welfare activities organized by such NPOs would create awareness about the adverse consequences of corruption faced by large segments of the society, which in turn would make it difficult to rationalize unethical and corrupt acts. Additionally, most NPOs actively strive to develop self-confidence and leadership skills among its volunteers. Prior literature indicates that individuals possessing such qualities are more likely to have an internal LOC and also that individuals possessing an internal LOC are less likely to act in a corrupt manner. The overall results indicate that greater experience with such NPOs leads to a significant reduction in propensity to rationalize and leads to a higher likelihood of having an internal LOC.

摘要: 本研究檢驗了參與提供社會福利服務並積極在志願者中推動例如社會責任、領導力、自信社會行為因素的非營利組織是否會減輕個人腐敗行為的可能性。我們發現了兩種心理特質：合理化的傾向（由自我欺騙證明）和促進不道德行為的外部控制點（與內部控制點相對）。在兩個非營利組織志願者的幫助下，我們調查了參與此類非營利組織的社會福利服務會否讓人意識到社會中大部分面對的腐敗問題所帶來的惡性後果，這反過來就會讓合理化不道德和腐敗的行為很難。此外，大多數非營利組織都積極努力培養志願者的自信心和領導技能。先前的文獻表明有這些品質的個人會更可能有內部控制點從而較小可能以腐敗的方式行事。整體的結果證明更多參與這類非營利組織會顯著減小合理化的傾向以及增加有內部控制點的可能性。

The Co-production of a Community: Engaging Citizens in Derelict Neighbourhoods | 社區的合作生產：讓被棄置的社區居民參與

By: Vanleene, Daphne; Voets, Joris; Verschuere, Bram, pp 201-221.

Abstract: In order to deal with “wicked problems” like inequality and social exclusion, one needs the support of committed citizens (Brandsen et al. in Manufactured civil society: practices, principles and effects, Palgrave, London, 2014). A promising setting to examine to what extent this is the case is that of community development projects in derelict neighbourhoods where the largest representation of ‘marginalised’ citizens can often be found (Head in Community development: theory and method of planned change, Vikas Publishing House, New Delhi, 1979; Needham in Personal co-production, 2009). In this article, we examine to what extent citizens are actually involved in local co-productive community development projects (in the city of Ghent, Belgium), and how professional field workers influence this engagement. We focus on three different potential effects of co-productive community development (inclusion and empowerment of citizen co-producers and the equity in the benefits they receive), and whether professional support can influence these effects. We find that co-production in community development projects may lead to more inclusion, empowerment and equity. Moreover, it is posited that the presence of professionals in their different roles does have a positive impact on co-productive community development.

摘要: 為了解決諸如不平等和社會排斥等惡劣問題，我們需要忠誠的公民支持（Brandsen 等人，製造的公民社會：實踐、原則和效果，2014 年）。被棄置的社區中的社區發展項目是一個較為適合檢驗這一陳述的場景，這裡往往有最具代表性的“邊緣化”居民（Head，社區發展：有計劃的變革的理論與方法，1979 年；Needham，個人的合作生產，2009 年）。本文中，我們檢驗了公民實際參與本地合作生產社區發展項目的程度（在比利時根

特市)，以及專業實地工作者如何影響他們的參與。我們主要關注合作生產社區發展的三類潛在影響（合作生產者的包容、賦權以及他們獲得益處的平等性），以及專業支持是否會影響這些影響。我們發現，社區發展項目中的共同生產可能會帶來包容、賦權和公平。另外，據推斷，專業人士以不同角色參與確實會對共同生產社區發展有積極影響。
