ISTR Mentoring Program: 2017-2018 Survey Results

Last year ISTR piloted a new Mentoring Program to connect students and young professionals with more senior colleagues to provide them with career, publishing, and funding advice and professional networking development. The Mentoring Program is part of a larger suite of programs designed to support the increasing numbers of students entering the field of third sector research and joining ISTR, including the PhD Seminars held in conference years which are now being expanded to regional network conferences.

Book Notes

Philanthropy in South Africa Book Launch

By Melissa Mungra

The book illuminates research on philanthropy in Africa by using case studies and ethnographic material to examine themes of cycles of reciprocity among black professionals, social justice philanthropy, community foundations, Ubuntu, and giving in township and rural settings.
