

12th ISTR Latin America and the Caribbean Regional Conference

The call for contributions for the 12th ISTR Latin America and the Caribbean Regional Conference, and the call for applications for the Regional PhD Seminar are now open. The theme for the conference is “Co-responsibility in building the public good in Latin America and the Caribbean.” The 2019 LAC ISTR conference creates an opportunity to showcase research and practice in the area of creating sustainable roles for Third sector CSOs and in explaining ways that connections can be made between sectors within this geographical region. A wide range of papers are being expected to cover these and other issues.

The deadline to apply is February 20, 2019

The conference is scheduled for July 3-5, 2019 and the PhD Seminar from July 2-3, 2019. The conference will take place at EAFIT University in Medellín, Colombia.

Proposals for papers, panels, and posters will be grouped by the themes listed below in the conference program:

- Democratization, Citizenship and Accountability
- Philanthropy and Volunteering
- Cross-Sector Partnerships, Collaborations and Interactions
- Governance and Management of Nonprofit Organizations
- SDGs: Poverty, Inequality & Sustainability
- Corporate Social Responsibility and Social Enterprise
- Social Innovation
- Emerging Areas of Theory and Practice, Research and Teaching

PhD seminar

A PhD seminar for doctoral students, at all stages of research, from the LAC Region will be held immediately prior to the Regional Conference July 2-3 at the EAFIT University. This is an excellent opportunity for research students to gain advice and broaden their research horizons with peers and experienced academics from a diverse range of countries in the region and to build important networks. PhD Students can apply for the PhD Seminar.
