

Jonah Platt is one of America's most trusted voices voices on modern Jewish identity, culture, and current events. He hosts the award-winning podcast Being Jewish with Jonah Platt, known for deeply honest and personal conversations with notable Jewish figures like Jason Alexander, Van Jones, Tiffany Haddish, Congressman Richie Torres, Bernard-Henry Levy, Cindy Crawford, and Sheryl Sandberg.

A worldwide hit across audio, YouTube, and television, Being Jewish is the #1 Jewish podcast in the world, including the #1 English language Jewish podcast in Israel. The show is a 2025 W3 Award winner for Best Host, a Webby Award Honoree for Best Indie Podcast, and a Religious Communicators Council Award winner for Best Audio/Visual Program.

With a combined social media following of over 400,000 and millions of engagements, Jonah uses his platform to empower, educate, and explore issues affecting the Jewish community with his signature positivity, nuance, and compassion. His op-eds have appeared in Variety, The Forward, USA Today, and Times of Israel, and he's appeared Day, and Our Campus United. As a leading voice on democracy, antisemitism, and as an expert on CNN, KTLA, FOXLA, Israel's i24, Fox News Digital, Newsmax, Atlanta News First, NewsNation, The Unholy Podcast, and more.

A dynamic keynote speaker, gala emcee, panel moderator, and singer, Jonah has partnered with numerous organizations including StandWithUs, American Jewish Committee, Birthright Israel, Israel on Campus Coalition, Magen David Adom, Save a Child's Heart, Our House Grief Counseling Center, Jewish National Fund, Joint Distribution Committee, Israel Parasport Center, and many JCCs & Jewish Federations all across North America.

Jonah sits on the boards of One Mitzvah A Day, The 8 Project, American Jewish University's Maas Center, The Inheritance Theater Project, and Van Jones' Exodus Media, and is an associate of Hen Mazzig's Tel Aviv Institute. He was honored with California's inaugural Community Excellence Award for Combating Antisemitism, Holocaust Museum LA's inaugural Roz & Abner Goldstine Advocacy Award, the 2025 American Friends of ELEM LifeSaver Award, and is currently pursuing his Master's in Antisemitism Studies at Gratz College.

A celebrated entertainment multi-hyphenate, Jonah's credits span screen, stage, and studio—from acting in the Oscar-nominated Being the Ricardos and Broadway's Wicked, to writing for multiple TV comedies, voicing beloved animated characters, and producing his first feature film, The Mensch, shooting this fall. He is also a sought-after singer and musician, award-winning vocal arranger, director of improv and theater, and is co-writing the musical adaptation of Lois Lowry's bestselling novel, THE GIVER.

A deeply engaged advocate for Jewish life and values, Jonah Platt is a trusted source of clarity, comfort, and courageous conversation—both at home and around the world.