AUTHOR INDEX .................................................................................................................................... 217
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The author would like to thank Professor Kurt Metzmeier for his assistance in the creation of the original list of subject terms for this index.

The author would also like to thank Charles Bradley Johnson and Kim Lynch for their assistance in proofreading the index.
COVERAGE OF THIS INDEX

Coverage:

Prior Indexes:

This index continues the two prior Kentucky Bench & Bar indexes compiled by Evelyn Lockwood:

Kentucky Bench & Bar Cumulative Index: Covering Volumes 1-46 (1983).

Included in this Index:

The Kentucky Bar Association’s journal has undergone two name changes during the period covered by this index. Prior to July 1998, the journal was known as the Kentucky Bench & Bar. In July 1998, the journal was renamed Bench & Bar and in 2013 the name was changed to B & B – Bench & Bar.

This index covers:

Bench & Bar from September 1998 (Volume 62, issue 4) through March 2013 (Volume 77, issue 2).

B & B – Bench & Bar from May 2013 (Volume 77, issue 3) through November 2013 (Volume 77, issue 6).

Material Indexed:

All articles, columns, news releases, book reviews, legal and judicial ethics opinions, judicial reprimands, proposed rule announcements, and final rule announcements are indexed in the subject index. Minutes of the Kentucky Bar Association Board of Governors meetings are included only under the topic of “Kentucky Bar Association Board of Governors – Minutes” and have not been indexed by subjects covered in the minutes. Meeting announcements, mass recognitions (such as Kentucky Bar Foundation New Members and the Continuing Education Award), term expirations of Board or Governors members, and material from the “Who, What, When & Where” section have been excluded.

All articles, columns, news releases, book reviews, ethics opinions, judicial reprimands, proposed rule announcements, and final rule announcements with an identified author are also indexed in the author index.
HOW TO USE THIS INDEX

Arrangement of Index:

General Arrangement:

The Kentucky Bench & Bar Cumulative Index: 2014 edition is divided into two sections: Subject Index and Author Index. Use of each section is described below. In both sections, headings appear in alphabetic order. Numeric entries are treated as if the numbers had been spelled out. Under each heading or sub-heading, entries appear in reverse chronological order (with the newest material appearing first). If there are multiple entries under a heading that have the same date, entries with higher page numbers appear first. Minutes of the Kentucky Bar Association Board of Governors meetings are included only under the topic of “Kentucky Bar Association Board of Governors – Minutes” and have not been indexed by subjects covered in the minutes.

Subject Index:

The subject index lists entries by subject, as well as by personal names and other proper names (for articles which discuss specific individuals or institutions). Subject headings with more than 25 entries are dividing into sub-headings. Sub-headings are arranged alphabetically within their main heading. An entry in the subject index consists of six elements: Title, Author, Bench & Bar volume, issue, page on which the article begins, and date of the issue. See the sample entry below.

Sample Subject Entry:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subject Heading</th>
<th>Sub-heading</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Legal Research - Computer Assisted Legal Research</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Title Internet Citations in Appellate Court Opinions: Something's Rotting in the Commonwealth, by Michael Whiteman &amp; Jennifer Frazier 76(1), p.22 (Jan. 2012).</td>
<td>Author(s)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Volume</td>
<td>Issue</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Page</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Date</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Title: Capitalization, punctuation, and italicization of titles have been changed, where necessary, for consistency in the formatting of this index. In many issues of the Bench & Bar, several articles have been collected under a running title such as “Immigration Law.” This running title has been included only if the title of the article is awkward or unclear without the running title. Otherwise this running title has been omitted. Regular authors often have a column which has a column name, such as Michael Losavio’s “Shop Talk” column or the “President’s Page.” If the article has a title, the name of the column is omitted. If the article does not have a title, then the column name is used to identify the article. The only exception to this rule is book reviews. Book reviews always include the identifier “Book Review:” preceding the title.

Author(s): Immediately following the title, the author’s name is listed. Titles such as Professor or Judge are omitted. Otherwise, author’s names are listed exactly as they appeared in the original journal. If the article was written by two or more authors, the authors are listed in the order in which they appeared in the original journal. Kentucky Bar Association Financial Statements and Independent Auditors reports do not have either the Kentucky Bar Association or the independent auditor credited as authors in the subject index.

is listed first, followed by the issue number (in parenthesis). Prior to September 1998, The Kentucky Bench & Bar was issued four times per year (Winter, Spring, Summer, and Fall). Following the title change, the Bench & Bar was issued six times per year (January, March, May, July, September, and November). Volume 62, issue 3 was dated both July 1998 and Summer 1998 – both dates are included for this issue. This frequency continued with B & B – Bench & Bar. Immediately after the issue number is the page on which the article begins, followed by the cover date of the issue (again, in parenthesis). Occasionally, materials which were issued as a supplement to or a special insert in an issue of the Bench & Bar are included in the index. In this case, the page number has been replaced with the word “supplement.”

Many terms which were not used as subject headings are also included in the index. These terms are included (along with a “see” reference) to assist the user in locating information relating to those topics. Many subject terms also have a “see also” reference to refer the user to other subject headings where related material can be found. In the PDF version of this index, the “see” and “see also” references are hyperlinked for the convenience of the user.

Examples:

Copyright
- See Intellectual Property.

Housing (See also Real Property.)

Author Index: The author index lists entries alphabetically by author’s name. Only articles which have one or more identified authors are included. If an article was written by two or more authors, it is indexed under each author. If an author has written under multiple variations of their name, the most complete version of their name is used as the Author Heading, with any shortened versions appearing in parenthesis after their name.

Example:

Chen, James Ming (Jim).

Some authors have written under more than one last name (i.e. under both a maiden and a married name). In this case, articles are listed under the name as it appears at the head of the article, but a “see also” reference is included referring the user to other names the author has used. Book reviews are listed under both the name of the reviewer(s) and the name of the author(s) of the reviewed work. Independent Auditors for Kentucky Bar Association financial statements are not credited in the author index. See the sample entry below.
