

Your Career Insurance

Consider for a moment how insurance works.

It is a form of investment, protecting all that you hold valuable: Home, Life, Health, Auto... but what about your Career?

LTEN is your career insurance.

We're here when you need us — every step of the way with clarity, community and career resources for professional development and success...now and in the future.

Not Quite a Crystal Ball but Close

The life sciences industry changes quickly and success often means keeping pace with the critical shifts. LTEN research, expert-led events, Focus on Training magazine and Bonus Focus articles provide you with insights needed to stay a step ahead of the trends.

Tools to Turn You into the Swiss Army Knife of Trainers

Whether you're new to training or a training leader, the LTEN Total Trainer Certificate Series features regional workshops for every aspect of training and leadership development. LTEN local workshops and live events will help you develop and sharpen your skills.

Brainiacs and Forward Thinkers Brought Directly to You

You need expert advice and intelligent insights, which is why LTEN features industry trendspotters in every LTEN article, at every workshop and conference, and expert presenters on all LTEN webinars. Access all of your LTEN benefits, including videos using the LTEN On-the-Go mobile app!

Tailored Career Tools

Whether you're trying to land the job of a lifetime or are an employer looking for qualified talent for a specific position, the new LTEN Career Center will help you quickly search for and connect to your next big opportunity.

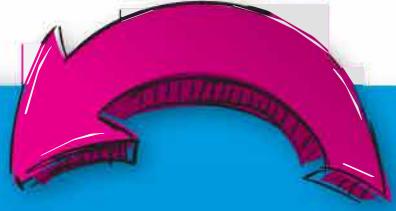

An Ever-Growing Network of Peers & Partners

LTEN is comprised of 1,900 members worldwide – training leaders, trainers, training partners and experts who are all focused on perfecting the art and science of life sciences training and education. We connect you with them via LTEN social media, the LTEN SocialLink Community platform, LTEN mixers and networking events.

LTEN is the essential resource for life sciences trainer education and networking; enabling members to harness their collective knowledge, apply leading-edge technology and deliver world class learning.
