

Suzanne “Suzie” Boyles
Economic Development Manager, City of Buckeye

Suzie Boyles is the Economic Development Manager for the City of Buckeye. Suzie has been in economic development for over 7 years and throughout that time has managed projects and programs that supported key economic development initiatives, including business attraction, marketing, workforce development, entrepreneurship, and business retention and expansion efforts. To date she has successfully located numerous businesses in industrial, retail, and healthcare industries to the communities she has served. Suzie attended Western New Mexico University, where she received both her Bachelor's and Master's degrees in Business Administration.