

Updated Continuing Care Disclosure Checklist

As a result of the passage of CS/HB 749, which was signed into law on May 26, 2015, three new disclosure requirements were added to chapter 651, Florida Statutes.

Disclosure of pertinent information about individual continuing care retirement communities is extremely important to most residents and prospective residents. This is what led to the additional disclosure requirements adopted by the Florida Legislature in 2010 and 2015.

Office of Insurance Regulation examiners are required during the triennial audit to verify that all mandated disclosure requirements are met. Providers must provide written, dated documentation that the items listed below were provided to residents, resident leaders or board members as specified in law. Failure to do so will be noted and could result in a fine. This is one of the more commonly cited violations during triennial audits.

For your convenience, we have compiled a checklist of all disclosure requirements in chapter 651, Florida Statutes. The disclosure requirements added in 2015 are identified with an asterisk (*).

To Resident Council President or Chair

In lieu of providing a copy of these documents, the law states that you may direct the Resident Council President or Chair to the Office of Insurance Regulation (OIR) website where the documents are posted. This website is intended to be user-friendly, but less technically adept residents may have trouble locating the documents.

Verification of Compliance with Disclosure Requirements

The Office of Insurance Regulation is required to verify that continuing care retirement communities comply with disclosure requirements in chapter 651, F.S., when it conducts an examination of the facility or responds to a consumer complaint. Therefore, it is important that providers request that recipients of required disclosure documents sign and date a witnessed statement indicating that they have received the document. This is not required by law, but it is good business practice, and is expected by OIR examiners as proof of compliance.
