

The new Nursing Home Administrators General Rules are effective as of May 20, 2019.

The new rules update the accreditation standards that have been adopted by reference, update the approved course of instruction and training required for licensure, and clarify the statutory education or work experience requirements for licensure. The new rules eliminate the state examination and update the information for the examination that is required for licensure.

The new rules REQUIRE as follows:

Complete one of the following options:

A: A course of instruction from an educational institution accredited by the Council of Higher Education and Accreditation (CHEA) that is at least 9 semester credits or 144 clock hours of instruction and includes all the following subjects:

- 1) Administrative management of a nursing home;
- 2) Human resources management in a nursing home;
- 3) Financial management of a nursing home;
- 4) State and federal laws and regulations regarding the nursing home industry,
- 5) Operation of a nursing home, emergency preparedness, including Medicare and Medicaid provider compliance with the requirements of the Life Safety Code, and the protection of patients' health, safety, and welfare in a nursing home;
- 6) Gerontology or the aging process; and
- 7) Identification of elder abuse and neglect.

OR

B: Provide a Certification of Employment form submitted directly to this office by the director of the Michigan-licensed hospital where you have been employed as a chief executive or administrative officer for not less than 5 of the 7 years immediately preceding the date of this application.

Complete this before taking the Review Course for best results on the exam.
