We were all so hopeful at 11:59pm on December 31. 3... 2...1! Happy New Year!!!! As 2019 closed, we had absolutely no idea that the year 2020 had made several resolutions of its own! Who anticipated murder hornets, a global pandemic and civil unrest? We were not prepared for this. Hold on, friend! Despite the stress, exhaustion, and frustration, our best attitudes and efforts are needed more than ever. This is not the time to trade in your credentials for a butterfly net and a one-way ticket to a breezy paradise!

In the midst of it all, you are cordially invited to a soiree of sorts. You deserve this party! You continue to have a profoundly positive impact on the lives of everyone in your department, your organization, and the world. As the honored guest of this virtual “Purpose Party”, you will be celebrated for your dedication, commitment, and the sanity you’ve managed to maintain during these “unprecedented” times!

In addition to the celebration, this session offers multiple methods and opportunities to practice the survival skills necessary to triumph over change and the stressful situations occurring around you. Come prepared for professional inspiration and skill-building like you’ve never experienced. Storytelling and unique activities will remind you that you were built to overcome. After all, you were a “hero” and “champion” way before the world went sideways! This is not a training, it’s a revival!

Are you READY to take your passion and purpose to the next level? Are you READY to practice your resilience, courage, power, and poise? Are you ready to receive tools, tips, and techniques to move you from crisis to confidence, and from struggle to strength? Strap in! This is going to be THE professional party EVERYONE is talking about. Who else is on the guest list?

- Anyone who needs to learn how to stay inspired despite challenges, conflicts, and changes.
- Anyone who desires to be more courageous while influencing others with positivity.
- Anyone who desperately needs to reconnect with that energetic and optimistic human who used to stare back in the mirror.

This wouldn’t be a proper shindig without music, favors, belly laughs, and other surprises. Oh, and you don’t need to bring anything but your wonderful selves! Can’t wait to see your face in the place!

Christopher Ridenhour will be our host with the most!!!!
