Creativity and Aging Conference at Duke University

Thursday, March 5, 2015 – 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.
Hilton Durham near Duke University

The Creativity and Aging Conference explores the relationship between creativity and healthy aging.

Led by experts in science and technology, the social sciences, the arts and humanities, and medicine and health care, sessions will blend scholarly research and innovative practices to investigate a variety of dimensions associated with healthy, dynamic aging.

Conference Sessions

- Re-EngAGE: Education, Aging, and Community
- Religion, Health, and the Creative Process
- e-Creativity: Transforming Aging through Technology
- Filmmaking and Aging: The Story of Bandida
- Research and Policy on Creative Aging
- The Capacity for and Benefits of Creativity in Later Life
- Music in My Mind: Enhancing Dementia Care through Personalized Music
- Creativity, the Essential Ingredient for Successful Weight Loss Interventions
- Embracing the Happy Accident: The Right and Left Brained Process of Artistic Creation
- Music and Aging: Exploring what Music Enthusiast Baby Boomers Want in a Community
- Gaming and Aging: Keeping the Mind Active
- Our Problems as the Roots of Our Power

Learn more at creativityandaging.com