

Liz Davis – Treasurer

PTG Event Services

Liz has been in the industry since 1999 having started in an after-school job in college for a small rental outfit, Parties to Go. After acquiring another rental company in 2001, Parties to Go, continued its expansion by changing its name to PTG Event Services. Liz currently serves as Director of Operations after developing many of the positions and processes in the sale and operations departments.

Liz believes that the MATRA Conference “gives her a sense of community, an opportunity to talk shop with folks that have the same challenges as me.” She has great hope that the passionate tent rental owners and operators that attend the Conference continue to work to create industry standards for safety and give the tent industry the reputation it deserves.
