Losberger US

Pat began his career in the tent industry in 1988. His start as a dishwasher led to tent and rental deliveries. With a long career in the tent industry and expertise in structures and people, Pat has been a key contributor to the development and growth of MATRA. He considers his time spent building MATRA and making the tent industry a career option for himself and many others one of his most valuable contributions. Pat's secret: he has a cup of tea and cookies just about every night before bed.
