- 9:00 am - 10:50 am Lessons Learned from Managing Crisis Events in a Small Community - Grand Ballroom
Chief Dave Funkhouser (Ret.) - Lexipol
In a span of several years, a small community in Wisconsin suffered through eight crisis events including four that garnered national level media attention. Four of the events involved loss of human life; a U.S. Army soldier, two police officers, and a woman and her grandson. One event spanned over 4 weeks and involved multiple threats to individuals in the community, government and school officials and the entire city infrastructure due to the local school district's investigation into a Title IX issue. Each of these events were unique in nature and each put a tremendous strain on local government resources to manage the events and mitigate further risk. Each event caused a significant amount of emotional strain on citizens in the community, causing political strife and division within the city. Attend this session to learn how to manage highly public events and consider universal lessons learned.
- 9:00 am - 12:00 pm MLEAC Hearings and Commission Meeting - Bellaire Ballroom Center

11:00 am - 11:50 am	Extreme Risk Protection Orders (ERPO) - a Brief Overview - Grand Ballroom Danielle Hagaman-Clark - Criminal Bureau Chief - Michigan Department of Attorney General On February 13, 2024, Michigan's red flag complaint law went into effect. It allows residents, law enforcement, and mental health officials to seek temporary removal of firearms from at-risk individuals by obtaining an extreme risk protection order (ERPO). Criminal Bureau Chief Danielle J. Hagaman-Clark will present a brief overview of the legislation that created ERPOs, Michigan's experience to date, and practical applications of the law for local law enforcement. Time will be allotted for audience Q & A.
12:00 pm - 1:00 pm	Attendee Lunch (Registered Full Conference Attendees Only) - Grand Ballroom
1:00 pm - 2:00 pm	PAC Meeting - Bellaire Ballroom Center
1:00 pm - 1:50 pm	Strategies for Holistic Wellness - Grand Ballroom Dave Edwards The Law Enforcement profession can be challenging not only physically but mentally. This unique training program will not only help first responders understand how the stresses of the job can impact them, but will teach them how certain skills can make them more resistant to stress and the many challenges they face.
2:00 pm - 2:50 pm	National Insurance Crime Bureau Overview/Law Enforcement Resources - Grand Ballroom Eric Eichenberg - NICB Brian Moffit - NICB The National Insurance Crime Bureau is a proud partner with Law Enforcement across the country. During this informative session attendees will learn more about the resources that the NICB has to offer and how they can assist with law enforcement investigations, provide resources, or offer training.
3:00 pm - 3:50 pm	We Can Stop the Revolving Door - Early Intervention and Collaboration - Kevin's Law - Grand Ballroom Judge Milton Mack - State Court Administrator Emeritus One of the most challenging areas of policing involves providing proper assistance to those with severe mental illness. What can be done to help a person with mental illness who doesn't meet the qualifications for involuntary hospitalization? Michigan's Mental Health Code now permits earlier intervention and the use of Assisted Outpatient Treatment to provide law enforcement with better tools to manage behavioral health incidents. This session will show how Assisted Outpatient Treatment programs can help not only the individual in need of assistance but reduce the need for hospitalization, criminalization, and other adverse outcomes.
5:30 pm - 6:00 pm	Pre-Banquet Reception - Lakeview Patio
6:00 pm	Awards Program &amp; Banquet - Grand Ballroom
Following Banquet	Hospitality - Bellaire Ballroom

Wednesday, June 19

8:30 am	Continental Breakfast
9:00 am - 12:00 pm	MACP Keynote Presentation Building Cultures of Accountability, Excellence, and Enjoyment - Grand Ballroom Pete Havel - Fireproofed Leadership Your department's workplace culture can affect every corner of your department. Performance. Morale. Ethics. Complacency or buy-in from your team. Employee Retention. Keeping your department free of scandal or corruption. Keeping your department and you in good standing in your community and keeping your job. The stakes are high and culture—for good or for bad—is often at the center of each and every one of those. Pete Havel, the author of The Arsonist in the Office and speaker and consultant at law enforcement leadership events and departments across the U.S., will train you on how to spot the arsonists in your organization (those can be mindsets or people), analyze your culture for the good and bad, dive into case studies that will challenge you, and talk about the practical and tactical things you can do as the leader—the Cultural Executive Officer. Learn how to build a culture that creates an environment that produces fulfilled, excellent and ethical people and outcomes—and is also prepared to make the hard decisions every good leader must be ready to make. This class is scheduled as the last class because it's the one that you'll be thinking through on your ride home on how you can take your culture and your department to the next level!
12:00 pm	Attendee Prize Drawings / Conference Concludes
