

Ethics Opinion

880203

QUESTION PRESENTED: Must an attorney who is a party in a divorce action divulge information regarding client names, nature of cases, advances, theories of liability, injuries and evidence, etc. as part of discovery?

ANSWER: No.

ANALYSIS: Public record documents and knowledge must be divulged upon request, but divulging the above would possibly violate the confidentiality Rule 1.6.

THIS OPINION IS ADVISORY ONLY