3. Chair’s Report
   Michelle had nothing new to report.

4. Treasurer’s Report
   Mary Brower reported that there have been no changes to the TMLA account balance since the report at MLA-Denver. The balance in our Wells-Fargo checking account is $4,759.18.

5. Committee Reports
   Database – Maristella Feustle reported that dates and other information are slowly being added to the Texas Composers’ Database. She would like to add three more members to the committee. Andrew Justice commented that working on the database takes more concentration than you may be able to give it at work. Ralph Hartsock and Stephanie Lewin-Lane volunteered.

   Oral History – Donna Arnold and Mark McKnight reported that they have a dream of interviewing Morris Martin and hope to make it come true.

   Constitution – Andrew Justice reported that our constitution needs updating; the committee is still working on the review.

   Membership – Bruce Hall reported, there is nothing to report at present.

6. Old Business
Travel grants—Maristella reported that the group working on this is in the process of comparing what other chapters offer. Typically the grant is a few hundred dollars. The MLA Board encourages chapters to facilitate educational opportunities. A few hundred dollars could help people come to a chapter meeting, but would not be very helpful with the expenses of travelling to a national meeting. The general consensus of the TMLA membership is to help people attend chapter meetings; the details are still to be worked out.

7. New Business

Elections: The election for Vice-Chair/Chair-Elect was held. Keith Chapman was elected.

Next year’s location: Maristella will share a google doc with suggestions of possible new locations for the fall meeting.

8. Reports

Bruce Evans reported that cataloging of the Spencer Sheet Music Collection is ongoing.

SMU: Michelle Hahn is leaving Texas next week to take a job at the Indiana University music library, and Vice Chair-Chair Elect Maristella Feustle will take over as chair.

UNT: Adam La Spata reported that he is now working in the audio department of the music library.
Mark McKnight introduced graduate assistant Morgan Davis. She is in the library science program and is an ARL Diversity Scholar. This June they will host their third annual music cataloging institute. This spring the music library will celebrate its 75th anniversary (the university also celebrates its 175th), with a symposium.

San Jacinto Community College: John Brower reported that he is now playing in the jazz ensemble.

Univ. of OK: Matt Stock reported that the library migrated to the Ex Libris Alma system. Liquor was helpful in surviving the migration. The library is also participating in the 2nd Friday art walks in Norman.

The Fine Arts Library expects something similar, but is getting funding for a renovation. The school is putting together a joint MLS-music history/ethnomusicology program. They are the only school that has a program in audio preservation. They have also had a concert series in the library for several years, and now the choral department has asked to have a Bach cantata series in the library at noon. And, David and Mark McKnight are now on an MLA task force about NASM--NASM is reviewing sections of their standards.

Rice: Mary Brower and Keith Chapman reported that Fondren is renovating part of the first floor. The Woodson Research Center is digitizing a collection of open reel tapes of various events. The library also hosts a late afternoon chamber music series called Music From Fondren.
