2012 ANNUAL REPORT
Dear NAADA Members,

On behalf of the Board of Directors, I am proud to present the annual report of the National Agricultural Alumni and Development Association (NAADA). This report spans two presidential terms—mine and now past-president Mary Buschette’s. She has had a significant impact on the activities and accomplishments in this report, and I thank her for her outstanding leadership.

In my December message to the membership, I talked about the value of a NAADA membership and the importance of your involvement to help make NAADA the best it can be. How proud we should all be of the amazing accomplishments outlined in these next few pages. And we could not have done this without the collective talent, energy, and engagement of our NAADA members and volunteers. Thank you for demonstrating your commitment through your continued membership, and to those who give of your time and talent, an added thanks!

NAADA has had a productive and solid financial year, and we are on track in the 2012-2013 year for continued success. Contributing to our achievements is our management company Ewald Consulting. Their management of the many processes it takes to run an organization (e.g., membership solicitation, sponsorship and donor relations, conference and meeting planning, promotional assistance, budget and investment activities, etc.) allows the board and committee members to focus on strategy and implementation. Our not-so-past presidents have shared with us the days when they ran the management of NAADA from their offices—shuffling boxes of NAADA history and documentation from one president to the next. As NAADA grew, it became apparent that we would have to make an investment in a management company. Now in year five, we have honed our working relationship, and throughout this report, you will see the results of that partnership—increased membership, financial stability, and a strong planning process that helps the organization get to the next great level.

It has been an honor serving as your president, and I look forward to what we will accomplish together in the next year!

Sincerely,
Jillian Stevenson, President, 2012-2014 NAADA

NAADA ANNUAL PLANNING PROCESS

In October 2009, the NAADA Board of Directors adopted an annual planning process. The steps involved in an annual cycle ensure that each part of the organization’s structure does its job—the Board sets objectives and priorities, the committees plan activities and implement them within those Board-approved objectives and according to the priorities determined by the board, the Board approves activities and the supporting budget, staff implement activities and monitor the financial management throughout the year, and the Board reviews the success of the organization’s activities. The completion of an annual work plan gives the organization a sense of direction for the year, and assures that activities can be adequately financed. The staff and committees then assume responsibility for the implementation of the work plan as outlined, with the budget as approved by the Board. Below is the current work plan, in priority order, as established by the board at its June 2011 meeting.

2012 marks the third full year that NAADA has operated under the accrual method of accounting with a fiscal year of October 1 – September 30. The organization continues to be financially stable due to close monitoring of budgets by volunteer leaders and staff. With reserves of $90,000, NAADA has 9 months of emergency expenses which is well within the industry standard of 6-12 months.

The 2012 fiscal year concluded with a $18,271 profit. NAADA typically approves a break-even or slightly positive budget and has been able to turn a profit of a few thousand dollars. Profit this year is due largely to a highly successful conference and sponsorship surpassing the budgeted amount by more than $10,000. The total expense of $152,100 was $35,120 over budget and was offset by $164,618 in total income which was $47,493 over budget. Higher than projected attendance at the annual conference caused the increased spending.

2012 CONFERENCE RECAP

The 2012 NAADA Annual Conference, hosted by the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, was held at the Hilton Hotel in downtown Lexington, Kentucky. The theme for the 37th annual conference was “Make Your Mark”.

The Kentucky planning committee, led by Lisa Cox, rolled out the “Big Blue” carpet and welcomed more than 200 NAADA members and guests to the Bluegrass State for a conference packed with motivational speakers, inspirational education sessions and a lot of exciting extras to showcase our state and the rich agriculture tradition that we live with every day.

The pre-conference event was a trip to Churchill Downs for an Evening at the Races – a first for many! Our guests were treated to a tasty buffet and finish line seats on Millionaires Row! Many followed the Derby tradition of wearing hats to the races, and all had a wonderful time – a few may have even cashed in some winning tickets!

The conference kicked off with a Big Blue Welcome for every institution in attendance by the official Voice of the Kentucky Wildcats, Patrick Whitmer. John Thelin, noted historian on the Land Grant System, served as the keynote speaker and spoke of the importance of the Land Grant system, with special recognition of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Morrill Act – birthday cake and all.

Jon Carloftis, award winning garden designer, garden writer, author and television guest, was the Bob Bickford Lecture speaker. Jon shared amazing photographs from a few of his garden books, photos from his family home/country store in Rockcastle County, and shared some of his experiences creating rooftop gardens in New York City. Jon also attended the Spirit Night dinner for a little one-on-one with our guests.

Attendees had several tour options that highlighted all Kentucky has to offer from Louisville Slugger Bats to various distilleries, local wineries, famous thoroughbred horse farms, Keeneland Racetrack and more:

- The Made in Kentucky Tour
- The Born & Bred Tour
- The Big Business in Kentucky Tour
- The See Blue Tour

Spirit Night was hosted at the UK College of Agriculture Horticulture Farm. The sun was shining bright that evening on our old Kentucky home and the farm was absolutely gorgeous. The farm is more than 80 acres of research fields, sustainable vegetables and fruits and produces some of the best peppers, bean tomatoes and berries. A Kentucky Proud dinner was served, using many of these products in the dishes that highlighted the tastes of local products that Kentucky is so very proud of. The evening included some bourbon and wine tasting and some Motown music from a local band made up of employees from the University of Kentucky. By the end of the evening, everyone was Kentucky Proud!

The conference concluded with the Make Your Mark Awards Banquet. Always a perfect way to end a conference, the annual awards program recognized the following individuals:

Volunteer Service Award: Chip Blalock, University of Georgia; James Clark, Jr., North Carolina State University; Nelson Loftus, Penn State University
Front Line Award: Jody Bissett, Louisiana State University
Professional Achievement Award: Paula Beecher, Clemson University
Founders Distinguished Service Award: Mary Buschette, University of Minnesota
Jane Longley-Cook Volunteer Service Award: Bill McCloskey, University of Kentucky
Ruby C. McSwain Outstanding NAADA Philanthropist Award: Dale Bone, North Carolina State University

The 2013 NAADA Annual Conference “Shaping the Future... Facing the Challenges and Leading the Change” will be held in Washington, D.C., June 16-19, 2013.
