Tim: Welcome to Omaha, communications professionals! We hope that—

Sam: Uh, Tim, excuse me …

Tim: —you are as excited as we are to gather in this beautiful city on the Missouri River—

Sam: Do you think …

Tim: Sam, we’re greeting attendees to #NABECOMM18. Can this wait?

Sam: I guess, but I just thought – never mind.

Tim: No, that’s OK, what’s up?

Sam: No, I didn’t mean to interrupt …

Tim: Is this that Midwestern civility I’ve heard so much about? Come on, Sam, spill it.

Sam: Well, I hate to say it, but … do people even read the opening letter in conference brochures?

Tim: Um, what?

Sam: I’m just saying, don’t they just flip to the schedule?

Tim: I guess, maybe. But … tradition, Sam!

Sam: Oh. OK.

Tim: Well, that sounded cryptic. You disagree?

Sam: It’s just that NABE Communications members always say our products have to “evolve” …

Tim: Uh-huh.

Sam: And that sticking to “the way we’ve always done things” is backward.

Tim: Okaaaaay …

Sam: And that “hanging onto the past” is what you do if you lack better ideas.

Tim: Gotcha. Ouch.

Sam: But, please continue.

Tim: Well, Sam, my friend, what do you propose?

Sam: Maybe mention the highlights quickly. And put them in bold. And give folks the inside page numbers to read more – because … they can read, right? Just a thought.

Tim: So mentioning we’re in the beautiful Hilton Omaha (p. 19), in the heart of a vibrant downtown and near recreational activities? And that our Wednesday night event is at the world-class Omaha’s Henry Doorly Zoo and Aquarium (p. 8)?

Sam: Yeah, like that. And add that there are 14 educational sessions including making print engaging (p. 8), channeling your social media storyteller (p. 10), and mental health awareness (p. 10)—

Tim: —all curated by our talented Program Committee, led by the creative Brandon Vogel.

Sam: And we have to thank the Sponsorship Committee—

Tim: —helmed by the stellar Carissa Long.

Sam: I think you’re getting the hang of this, Tim.

Tim: Thanks, Sam! And we can’t hang it up—

Sam: I see what you did there.

Tim: —until we plug our positively pleasing plenary presenters—

Sam: Please stop that.

Tim: —the perfectly picked association pro Elizabeth Derrico (p. 6) and humorist-at-law Sean Carter (p. 5).

Sam: So attendees will be smiling. Should they be dressed up?

Tim: That’s a hard No. The Workshop is casual. No jackets or ties needed.

Sam: Hmm. How about bolo ties?

Tim: Sam, I like your style. Bring us on home.

Sam: My pleasure! Welcome to Omaha, NABE Communications Section – we’re glad to see you!

Explore Omaha

Visit www.visitomaha.com for a complete guide to everything Omaha offers.
Sean Carter graduated from Harvard Law School in 1992. His 10 years of legal practice focused on corporate securities and mergers and acquisitions. During this time, he represented such clients as GNC, Experian, The Boston Beer Company, Homeside Lending, Safelite Auto Glass, J. Crew and many others. Most recently, he served as in-house counsel to a publicly-traded finance company.

In 2002, Mr. Carter left the practice of law to pursue a career as the country’s foremost Humorist at Law. Since then, Mr. Carter has crisscrossed the country delivering comedic professional educational seminars for more than 250 organizations in three dozen states.

Mr. Carter is the author of the first-ever comedic legal treatise -- If It Does Not Fit, Must You Acquit?: Your Humorous Guide to the Law. His syndicated legal humor column has appeared in general circulation newspapers in more than 30 states and his weekly humor column for lawyers appeared in the ABA e-Report from 2003 to 2006.

Mr. Carter lives in Mesa, Arizona with his wife and four sons.
Elizabeth Derrico is an unabashed fan of the NABE Communications Section, owing much of her career success to the lessons learned there and the relationships formed. She attended her first NABE Communications Workshop in 1985 in Seattle and made her first presentation in 1986 in Charleston on the wonders of desktop publishing.

She is the principal of Elizabeth Derrico & Associates, a consulting firm focused on building the organizational capacity of associations, foundations, and other non-profits. She spent more than 30 years in the trenches as a bar association professional with the ABA Division for Bar Services and the New York State Bar Association (NYSBA). Although Elizabeth’s recollections of life before bar work are dim, she does recall donning a cap and gown to receive a B.A. from Wheaton College (MA) and a MAPP from the University at Albany.

12-12:30 pm  Welcome & Introductions, Blackstone A

Tim Eigo, NABE Communications Section Chair/Workshop Co-Chair

12:30-1:45 pm  Opening Plenary: Nice Associations Finish First, Blackstone A

Sean Carter

It’s been said that nice guys finish last. And while that might be true in the rough-and-tumble arenas of politics, professional prize fighting and marriage, nothing could be further from the truth in running a professional association. Nice associations finish first ... and so do their members!

In this offbeat seminar, Sean Carter uses humor to stress the importance of not only being “nice,” but also providing members with the essential benefits of association membership:

- Networking opportunities
- Interesting experiences
- Charitable endeavors
- Educational programs

1:45-2:15 pm  Sponsor Break, Blackstone Foyer

Recharge with a drink and snacks as you visit with vendors. Learn about various product solutions for your association. While you’re there, drop off your business card to enter prize drawings. (Must be present to win.)
Workshop Schedule

2:15-3:15 pm  Breakout Sessions

A Beyond CLE: How Value-Added Programming Enhances Member Experience, St. Nicholas A
Lorrie Benson, Section Facilitator and Publications Director, Nebraska State Bar Association
Amanda Farris, Manager of Brand and Publications, Kansas City Metropolitan Bar Association
Karen Korr, Director of Outreach Strategy and CCO, San Diego County Bar Association
Russell Rawlings, Director of External Affairs and Communications, North Carolina Bar Association
Moderator: AnnMarie Thomas, Director of Membership, Communications and Events, Kansas City Metropolitan Bar Association

Lawyer engagement is a changing landscape. Join us for a conversation with association leaders who are providing new opportunities to lawyers, helping them grow as professionals. Hear about association programs that teach social media skills, give advice on writing press releases and award submissions, and other value-added programming that meets new member needs and continues to increase association relevance in the legal community.

3:15-3:45 pm  Sponsor Break, Blackstone Foyer
Fuel up on coffee and snacks while visiting with vendors. Additional prize drawings will be held…you must be in attendance to claim your prize!

3:45-4:45 pm  Breakout Sessions

A Print is the Solution, Not the Problem, St. Nicholas A
Tim Eigo, Editor, State Bar of Arizona
Todd Lemke, Publisher, The Omaha Magazine
Jennifer R. Mason, Assistant Director of Communications, State Bar of Georgia
Moderator: Evann Kleinschmidt, Director of Communications, State Bar of New Mexico

Is print really dead? We certainly don’t think so! But the industry (and its readers) has been changing. This session will include examples and tips from publications that are thriving today. Other topics include recognizing stale content, reframing content for today’s audience, bolstering your print publications with electronic content, and more ideas for you to steal and use as soon as you get home. Plus — hear tips for convincing your board and leadership that change isn’t a bad thing!

B What Do We Do Now? How to Craft and Use a Crisis Communications Plan, St. Nicholas B
Farrah Fite, Media Relations Director, The Missouri Bar
Matthew Page, Communications Director, Utah State Bar
Gina Pappas, President, Albers Communications Group, Omaha, NE
Moderator: Amy Starnes, Public Information Director, State Bar of Texas

Experts discuss how a thorough crisis communications plan can direct action and keep bar leaders focused on a clear path through any disaster — man-made or otherwise. Learn the do’s and don’ts from pros who have faced crises and survived.

Website Redesigns and Trends, St. Nicholas B
Sarah Coole, Director of Communications, State Bar of Georgia
Cynthia Kincaid, Chief Marketing Officer, Ohio State Bar Association
Michael White, Communications Manager, San Fernando Valley Bar Association

Learn from your peers in the trenches of website redesigns! Hear from past Luminary Award winners about their dos and don’ts of hiring vendors, using digital engagement platforms, and much more. Get practical guidance on re-launching your site and what is important for your members.

6:30-9 pm  Dinner Event, Omaha’s Henry Doorly Zoo's Scott Aquarium, 3701 S 10th St, Omaha, NE 68107

Explore the bottom of the ocean with fellow attendees Wednesday night and come nose to nose with sea turtles as sharks circle above you at Omaha’s Henry Doorly Zoo and Aquarium. Dinner will be served in the 70-foot-long tunnel, known as the Shark Reef, part of the Suzanne and Walter Scott Aquarium. The Suzanne and Walter Scott Aquarium features naturalistic displays of aquatic habitats from polar regions, temperate oceans, coral reefs and the Amazon. Guests also encounter ocean birds, including Antarctic penguins, tufted puffins and common murres, jelly fish, eels, crabs and other ocean animals throughout the Aquarium.
THURSDAY | OCTOBER 4

8 am-3 pm    Registration, Blackstone Foyer
8 am-4 pm    Exhibits, Blackstone Foyer
8-9 am     Breakfast, Blackstone Foyer
9-10:15 am   Plenary: Marshmallows and Miranda (Lin-Manuel Miranda), Blackstone A

Elizabeth Derrico

As communications professionals we face lots of challenges from deadlines to trying keep it fresh and interesting on our 10th year of promoting Law Day. In this interactive session we’ll draw inspiration musical theater to create an approach to our everyday tasks and how we can think strategically about our work.

10:15-10:45 am   Sponsor Break, Blackstone Foyer
10:45-11:45 am  Breakout Sessions

How to Thrive–Not Just Survive–When It Comes to Trending Issues, St. Nicholas A
Elizabeth Derrico, Principal, Elizabeth Derrico & Associates
Farrah Fite, Media Relations Director, The Missouri Bar

Lawyers are guardians of the Constitution, and many turn to those in the legal profession when questions involving one’s rights rise to the forefront. From officer-involved shootings and #BlackLivesMatter to the #MeToo Movement, immigration and more, bar communications professionals shape the voices that provide answers for when the law and life intersect. This panel will give tips on how to anticipate newsworthy issues that may entangle your bar and how to be proactive in your communications approach to sensitive but trending issues.

How to Effectively Email Your Members Without Blowing Up Inboxes, St. Nicholas B
Alysha Adamo, Communications Manager, Connecticut Bar Association
Kerstin Firmin, Director of Communications and Public Relations, Bar Association of San Francisco
Carol Manning, Communications Director, Oklahoma Bar Association
Jenny Taylor, Senior Manager of Managed Services, Higher Logic
Moderator: Brian Knavish, Director of Marketing and Media Relations, Allegheny County Bar Association

It’s a classic catch-22. Members complain about receiving too many emails from the bar, yet sending that one more email often yields results. How do you find the right balance? And, even more tricky, how do you say “no” when enough is enough? The panel – which features bar association communication pros as well as a guru from an email marketing vendor – will tackle these questions. Panelists will explore some bar association best practices, recent changes that have brought about positive results, industry trends and other helpful tips.
Workshop Schedule

12-1 pm  Networking Lunch, Blackstone A
1:15-2:15 pm  Breakout Sessions

A Everything You Wanted to Know About Mental Health but Were Afraid to Ask, St. Nicholas A
   Terry Bentley Hill, Law Office of Terry Bentley Hill
   Kelly Rentzel, General Counsel, Texas Capital Bank
   Chelsea Schutter, Treatment Officer for Adult Probation, Nebraska Probation Office
   Moderator: Nick Hansen, Communications Specialist, Hennepin County Bar Association

It’s no longer a secret. The legal profession has a significant problem with mental health issues. According to a 2016 study done by the ABA and Hazelden, attorneys experience symptoms of depression, anxiety, and stress at significant rates. Bar associations need to know how to address these issues. This panel will feature three professionals who are well versed in mental health issues. They will guide you through how to discuss mental health in your publication, how to navigate the nuances of mental health, and answer any questions you have.

B Get Your Story Right, St. Nicholas B
   Adam Faderewski, Associate Editor, Texas Bar Journal, State Bar of Texas
   Hannah Kiddoo, Media Writer, Missouri Bar
   Karen Korr, Director of Outreach Strategy and CCO, San Diego County Bar Association
   Moderator: Patricia McConnico, Managing Editor, State Bar of Texas

Today’s Instagram and Snapchat are so much more than just a photo and caption. This session focuses on the newest and most dynamic features, including stories, filters, lenses, editing tools, polls, stickers, and more—plus how to measure what’s working and what’s not. Experts and newbies will benefit from the knowledge shared by users who are getting it right.

2:15-2:45 pm  Sponsor Break, Blackstone Foyer

2:45-3:45 pm  Breakout Sessions

A The Analytics that Matter (and How to Share Them With Your Leaders), St. Nicholas A
   Jason Cecil, Chief Technology Officer, The Missouri Bar
   Jenny Taylor, Senior Manager of Managed Services, Higher Logic
   Brandon Vogel, Social Media and Web Content Manager, New York State Bar Association
   Moderator: Mandy Wren, Executive Director, Richland County Bar Association

Analytics give us the ability to know who is engaging with our platforms, their preferences and who they shared our content with, but how do you dissect all that information and put it to use to continuously improve your communications strategies? This panel of tech-savvy leaders will cover which metrics are most important, how to use that data to improve your outcomes, and how to share your analytics with your leaders so they understand what it means for your bar’s communications success.

D Diversity in Action: D&I as a Content Strategy, St. Nicholas B
   Joyce Hastings, Communications Director, State Bar of Wisconsin
   Athena Hollins, Diversity and Inclusion Director, Minnesota State Bar Association
   Elizabeth Neeley, PhD, Executive Director, Nebraska State Bar Association
   Cynthia Robinson, PhD, Associate Professor, University of Nebraska-Omaha

When they arrive in the mail or in your members’ inboxes, your communications are a symbol of how well your bar association is pursuing diversity and inclusion. Learn how to move beyond good intentions to create a diversity and inclusion content strategy that helps ensure your communications reflect the rich diversity of your membership.
Workshop Schedule

4-5:30 pm  beer & bull, Blackstone A

Lowell Brown, Communications Division Director, State Bar of Texas
Patricia McConnico, Managing Editor, State Bar of Texas

If it’s a NABECOMM Workshop, there will be beer and bull! Chat with other attendees about hot association-related topics and best practices in this speed networking format.

FRIDAY | OCTOBER 5

8-9 am  registration, Blackstone Foyer

8 am-12 pm  exhibits, Blackstone Foyer

8:30-9:45 am  Breakfast/Lightning Round-30 Ideas in 30 Minutes/Section Business, Blackstone A

Dominick Alcid, Director of Membership and Marketing, Federal Bar Association
Nick Hansen, Communications Specialist, Hennepin County Bar Association
Karen Korr, Director of Outreach Strategy and CCO, San Diego County Bar Association
Kevin Lang, Executive Director of External Relations, Law Society of Scotland
Carol Manning, Communications Director, Oklahoma Bar Association

Before the mimosas start flowing, join us for an overview of the section’s activities and get a preview of NABECOMM19. One lucky workshop attendee will also win a complimentary meeting registration to next year’s Workshop.

To change things up, we also have a fast-paced lightning round on tap. Five panelists from all points of their careers will answer questions on a wide range of topics including technology, tips for productivity, lessons learned. Be prepared for equal parts fun and practical advice that will leave you feeling energized long after the workshop.

9:45-10 am  Sponsor Break, Blackstone Foyer

10-11:15 am  Luminary Award Presentation, Blackstone A

Luminary Chair: Tracey DeMarea, Executive Director, Johnson County Bar Association

The capstone of every NABECOMM Workshop, our Luminary Awards Brunch will celebrate “the best-of-the-best” in communications projects. We’ll also recognize two Section members with our prestigious Anne Charles Award, for service to the Communications Section, and the E.A. Wally Richter Award, the section’s highest honor. Whether winner or attendee, help us salute these outstanding achievements.

11:15-11:30 am  Final Sendoff

11:30 am-12  Luminary Awards Gallery, Cozzens

7:00 pm  Dine-Arounds

(Meet in hotel lobby at 6:30)

Home of the Reuben sandwich and the bone-in ribeye, Omaha has some great restaurants to check out. Sign-up onsite at the meeting (registration desk) for the restaurant of your choosing for an evening of fellowship and food with your fellow attendees. Dinners are Dutch-treat.

Blue Sushi Sake Grill
416 S 12th St.

Blue Sushi Sake Grill unites creative ingredients with energetic vibes, premium cold sake with happy moments to give you a fresh and fun new way to experience sushi. It’s the most popular sushi in Omaha.

801 Chophouse at the Paxton
1403 Farnam St.

Sharp, white-tablecloth spot serving a menu of upscale steakhouse classics including fresh seafood. Close to the Wicked Rabbit speakeasy for an after-dinner drink.

Jams American Grill
1101 Harvey St.

You may recognize this restaurant from its recent use in the Alexander Payne movie Downsizing. The fare is upscale American, with a great selection of dinner salads.

Le Bouillon
1017 Howard St.

With a wide wine selection and an emphasis on seafood, Le Bouillon is located in the heart of the Old Market and provides the backdrop for a great evening in Omaha.

Editor, Arizona Attorney Magazine
State Bar of Arizona

Tim Eigo is probably reading a print magazine right now – or tweeting, editing Arizona Attorney Magazine, co-writing the Daily 5 legal newsletter, or writing more social-media content than is good for anyone. Before that, he edited and wrote at numerous publications, was an English major (remember those?), and earned a law degree back in the 20th century. He’s practiced law in California but been told he’s nice. He also serves as President of the Phoenix chapter of the Society of Professional Journalists. #RealNews. He’s Chair of the NABE Communications Section and in 2015 was honored with the Section’s E.A. #Wally Richter Leadership Award. #NABEmore

KERSTIN FIRMIN
Director of Communications and Public Relations
Bar Association of San Francisco

Kerstin Firmin is the Director of Communications and Public Relations for the Bar Association of San Francisco. Her team provides support for both the 7,500-member-strong bar association as well as its sister organization, the Justice & Diversity Center, whose staff and volunteers provide educational programs and pro bono legal services to more than 9,000 low-income and underserved people each year. In her free time, Kerstin serves on the board of Crowded Fire Theater and enjoys dangerous things, like roller-skating, rock climbing, and punk rock.
