DEAR CURRENT AND PROSPECTIVE PARTNER:

We are excited about the joint 2020 NABJ-NAHJ Convention in Washington, D.C. It is by far the largest gathering of journalists and media professionals in the country. The objective is to make this gathering of more than 5,500 attendees a win-win-win proposition for our members, partners and audiences. Education, growing brands and better serving audiences are at the foundation of our partnerships and objectives.

A plethora of opportunities for partners await you at our convention. Whether it is recruiting prospective employees, educating our members on new initiatives, growing your brand, networking with some of the most powerful influencers in the country or providing different perspectives on a myriad of issues, all of this can be accomplished through our convention opportunities.

This prospectus provides popular packaged opportunities, but we pride ourselves on the flexibility of customizing opportunities to better meet our partners’ needs. Browse through these opportunities and let us know how we can best help you meet your objectives.

We look forward to engaging with you in Washington, D.C.!

Drew Berry
NABJ Executive Director

On behalf of NAHJ, I invite you to support the 2020 NABJ-NAHJ Joint Convention. It’s an exciting time for both of the nation’s largest minority journalism organizations. As we continue to grow and adapt, we are motivated and responsive to the industry’s current tumultuous climate.

Our associations are confronting a time of many changes, and we’re meeting these changes with strategic reactions, planning and preparation. As we approach the 2020 Election and Census, it is an important time for journalists, newsrooms and networks to become more equipped, as we report on the current affairs of our country.

Our joint gathering in Washington, D.C. is once again historic and groundbreaking. It brings our inspired members together to remain at the cutting-edge of accountability and coverage. The tension between a free press and the government is not something that is new to our members; in fact, this is a part of the essential checks and balances of the free society the founding fathers envisioned. However, the calculated attacks and attempted intimidation over the past four years have escalated, becoming an inevitable and inescapable battle.

As organization leaders, we have committed to strengthening media professionals of color by providing essential tools to help journalists and news organizations enhance their work. We should all be proud of where we are today and excited about where we are headed together.

Alberto B. Mendoza
NAHJ Executive Director

Terms & Conditions

Professional Development, Signature, and Special Events may have more than one corporate partner. NABJ-NAHJ reserves the right to select co-partners, but will give careful consideration to requests from any partner where there is a desire not to co-partner with another specific partner on an activity or event.

Exclusive branding is available at certain price points. Please note that indicating an interest in an event or product does not guarantee you will be able to secure branding of that event. We will make every effort to accommodate your request. Bundled packages are also available. Please contact JoAnne Lyons Wooten at jlwooten@nabj.org or 240-460-5153 for more information.

Please contact NABJ-NAHJ to confirm the availability of your event branding request and to discuss specific details regarding the event. NABJ-NAHJ does not recognize the right of first refusal by any partner, past or present.

As we welcome input from our partners, as we do from the community as a whole, NABJ-NAHJ retains final approval of all titles, topics of discussion, selection of panel experts, speakers and other aspects of creative and editorial control regarding branded events, workshops and panels. NABJ-NAHJ reserves the right to choose one or more panelists or moderator of sessions. As a non-profit professional and educational organization, NABJ-NAHJ greatly appreciates corporate and foundation support for its mission, goals, programs and activities.

Acceptance by NABJ-NAHJ of any financial or in-kind contribution from partners or funders does not constitute an endorsement of their policies, products or services, etc. It is understood and acknowledged there should be no expectation on the part of our partners or funders for any special treatment in news or media coverage, which would be against journalism’s ethical standards.

NABJ-NAHJ does not guarantee any level of participation in partnered events. All events are subject to filming, recording or photography.
