Plus: supporting consultancy and bespoke CPD available to support curriculum and pedagogy development.

“[The NACE Curriculum Audit] has helped staff to focus exactly on what we are doing, not only for MAT but for all learners, and has helped us reflect and focus on preparation for the new curriculum and ways forward when matching progression steps. It has provided a framework we have found to be most beneficial as a working document to meet the needs of all learners.”

Jan Edwards, MAT Coordinator,
Cwmclydach Primary School

The NACE Challenge Framework, Curriculum Audit and Assessment Audit are all aligned to the new Curriculum for Wales, and available in English and Welsh medium.

About NACE: An independent charity founded in 1983, the National Association for Able Children in Education (NACE) supports schools to develop high-quality provision for more able and talented (MAT) learners, within a whole-school context of challenge for all. NACE has a long history of supporting schools, consortia and government in Wales through school review, curriculum development and the NACE Challenge Framework. It has been formally commissioned to support more able policy developments in Wales, and reviews published by Welsh Government and Estyn have cited NACE's contributions in enabling schools to attain excellent provision for MAT learners.
