

NAHAM Access Forum User Guide

The NAHAM Access Forum is an interactive board where members may share tips and resources, ask questions of one another, and help fellow members solve problems or take a new view towards a particular situation.

Take advantage of this opportunity to communicate with others across the nation who do what you do for a living and, therefore, understand the challenges that you face. Who knows – perhaps the dilemma you are facing today was solved by your fellow member yesterday!

To find the Access Forum, login at www.naham.org, then navigate to Resources>Access Forum. Or you can go directly to <https://www.naham.org/forums/Default.aspx?>

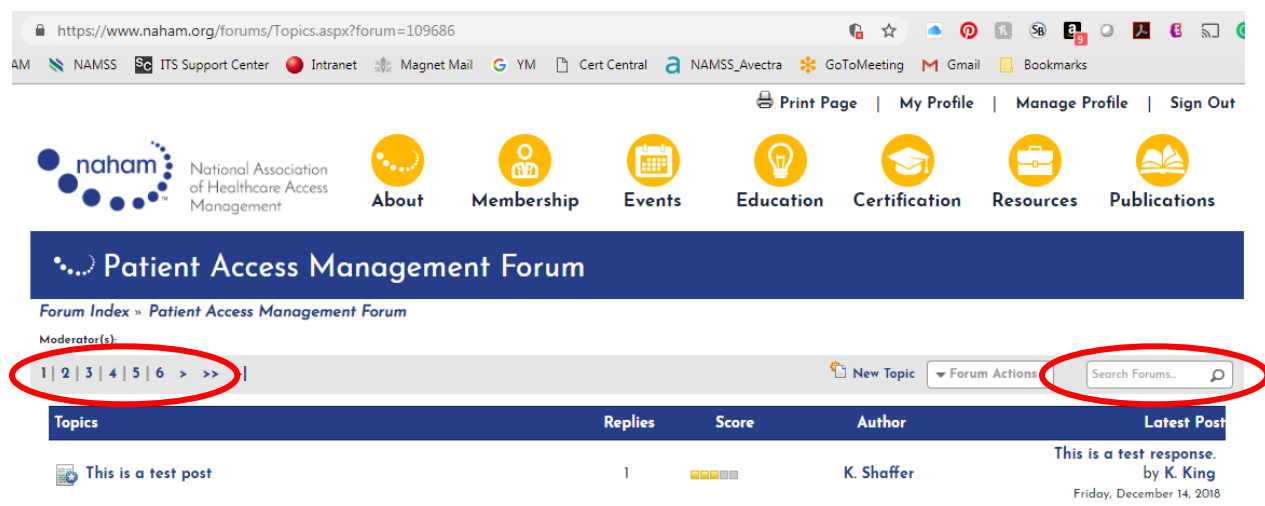

Please note that some forums, including the Patient Access Management Forum, are members-only benefits, which means you'll need to be logged in to access them.

There are a number of sub-forums on the Forum homepage. The Patient Access Management Forum is the catch-all for most posts related to Patient Access, but you may also be interested in the CHAA and CHAM Preparation Forum or the Epic Forum.

We follow the same workflow, first parent presenting with child. We do not change the guarantor for each visit. The only way the guarantor is changed is if there is legal documentation presented such as a court order or divorce decree.

The post content is partially visible: 'I am interested in hearing from other facilities serving pediatric patients on your processes for determining guarantor when the patient is not living in an intact household. Our process today is to enter the adult s the guarantor on the account. This would be changed at each visit depending on which parent or guardi'. A red arrow points to the 'Thread Actions' dropdown menu, which is open and shows options: Share, Subscribe to Instant Updates, My Subscriptions & Settings, Tell a Friend, RSS, and Top Posters.
