About Turn of the Corkscrew, Books & Wine

In October 2015, co-owners Carol Hoenig and Peggy Zieran opened Turn of the Corkscrew, Books and Wine. With their combined experience of over 35 years in the bookselling and event world, they have created a warm and welcoming experience where readers, local artists and authors from around the country gather together to celebrate growth, community and of course, a nice glass of wine.

Quick Facts

- ❖ Based in Rockville Centre, a “mini-Manhattan” as described by the New York Times
- ❖ From Penn Station, just a 39 minute LIRR train ride then a quick one-minute walk up the block
- ❖ Dedicated space for events: readings, signings, crafts and community book clubs (up to 50 ppl)
- ❖ Access to 8 schools within 2 mile radius
- ❖ Partnership with Molloy College’s Madison Theatre (seats 600)
- ❖ In-house bistro serves curated wines, local craft beer and light bites
