NASCLA History

Founded in 1962, the National Association of State Contractors Licensing Agencies (NASCLA) is a nonprofit organization whose purpose is to promote best practices and license uniformity for agencies that regulate the construction industry.

By upholding dedication to the assistance of contractor licensing and enforcement agencies, trade associations, and members of the construction industry, NASCLA serves as a vital resource for its members and the contracting community.

NASCLA's Goals

Goal 1:

Support best practices in the construction industry that promote quality standards and public safety, mutual interests and regulation of business practices. Pertinent information to be made available to NASCLA members via educational seminars and informative publications.

Goal 2:

Streamline contractor licensing process by (i) acquiring more states who accept the NASCLA Accredited Examination Program and (ii) reducing licensing barriers.

NASCLA Performance Measures:

1. Quality of Information (completeness, accuracy, ease of use)
2. The number of states adopting NASCLA's uniform exams
3. Reduced number of licensing barriers
4. Uniform testing procedures
5. Manageable financial requirements
6. Increase in the use of uniform license classifications
7. Lower costs of the licensing process and lower fees for contractors

NASCLA Committee Structure

The NASCLA Committees have been realigned to more closely correspond to NASCLA's mission, vision and goals statements and the NASCLA Board of Directors' priorities.

Board Committees:

1. Executive Committee
2. Accredited Examination Program Committee
3. Contractors Committee
4. Model Legislation Committee
5. Technology Committee

Board Task Force:

1. Program Task Force
2. Membership Task Force
3. Publications Task Force
