Spring is a busy and productive time with NASCLA. Last month we had our NASCLA 2018 Board of Directors Mid Year Meeting, held at the NASCLA office in Phoenix Arizona. It was a fantastic meeting with great topics and a valuable workshop facilitated by Tim Carroll with MIG. It was also a great opportunity for the NASCLA Board of Directors and Committee Chairs to visit the NASCLA office and see the new facility. Thank you to those who attended the meeting in person, via phone or by sending in your proxy.

NASCLA Committee Chairs and Committee Members continue to dedicate their time and talent working on the priorities set forth in the NASCLA Strategic Plan for 2017, 2018 and 2019 in support of our strategic focus area and objectives.

The NASCLA Accredited Examination Program Committee and staff have been diligently working on the implementation of the new NASCLA Accredited Electrical Examination Program with Assessment Systems; the 3rd party server hosting company selected to house the (3) examinations for Electrical Contractors, Journeyman Electricians, and Residential Electrical Contractors. Overall, the launch of the new program is progressing, as it should, with the next steps being to copyright the Job Occupational Analysis, examination items, forms, images, and blueprints. Come this summer, the program should be fully launched, administering the examinations through the participating state agencies.

We have had some significant changes over the last few months. George Whalen (RI) retired at the end of last year and Kathy S. LeCroix (AL) is counting down the days to her retirement. George and Kathy have been so influential to NASCLA; they have both served as president, chaired committees and have been members of multiple NASCLA committees. Their expertise, dedication, and friendship will be greatly missed. Gwen Derse, NASCLA Bookkeeper, also retired. Gwen has dedicated (14) years to NASCLA ensuring smooth financial operations. We wish them all the best in their retirement. Last but certainly not least, our NASCLA family is growing with the upcoming September arrival of Jacquie Wilberscheid, NASCLA Meetings & Special Projects Coordinator’s, second baby who will be the first baby girl to join the NASCLA family.

Staff, along with input from the NASCLA Program Committee Taskforce, have been busy finalizing the details for the NASCLA 2018 Annual Conference being held in Nashville, Tennessee, August 27th – 30th. We have had such great feedback and success in the NASCLA Investigator Training Program; we are expanding it to (2) full days this year and bringing back the NASCLA Attorney Training Program for a second year. Please mark your calendars and make your reservations to attend.

I look forward to seeing you in Nashville; the stage is set for you.

Sincerely,

Melissa McBride
NASCLA President
The Alabama Plumbers Examining Board was created by Act No. 529 of the 1949 Regular Session of the Alabama Legislature, and was later renamed Plumbers and Gas Fitters Examining Board (PGFB). This board was created to protect the health, safety, and welfare of the state and its citizens. The board is made up of (7) members who are appointed by the Governor: (1) Journeyman Plumber; (1) Journeyman Gas Fitter; (1) Master Plumber; (1) Master Gas Fitter; (1) Professional Engineer; (1) Building Official; and (1) member of the public at large. The board meets quarterly.

Our law grants us the authority to test, license and discipline all individuals who perform plumbing, gas, and medical gas work. The board has the authority to levy fines, order restitution, suspend licenses, and on rare occasions, suspend a license.

We have (3) levels of licensing: Apprentice, which can only work under the supervision of a Journeyman; Journeyman, which must be employed by an individual or legal entity holding the Master Certification, and may only supervise up to (3) apprentices; and the Master Certification. Only the Journeyman and Master Certifications require testing. Currently the board has between 12,000 and 13,000 licensees, about 5,000 of which are apprentice level. Testing is performed through a 3rd party testing agency. The board has the authority to enter into reciprocal agreements with other state licensing agencies, but currently has no written reciprocal agreements in place. Applications for reciprocation are reviewed on a case by case basis, and may be approved after the qualifications of the applicant have been verified and compared to our standards.

The board performs random license checks, receives consumer complaints, performs investigations and prosecutes violators. The board has an (18) member staff, (8) of which are compliance officers whose areas of responsibility are divided into defined geographical territories. Compliance Officers perform investigations into alleged violations, and when sufficient evidence is found, it is brought before the investigative committee for review. The investigative committee at that time may prescribe fines or other appropriate disciplinary action against the contractor or other legal entity. The board also works closely with the Alabama Attorney General’s office from time to time, when the severity of the violation may be outside of the scope of the PGFB law.

The board also supports workforce development in the plumbing and gas industries. We have assisted in setting up (5) high school level training programs, and have approved agreements with these high schools, as well as the 2-year college system, to reduce the length of the apprenticeship upon successful completion of a board approved program.

The Alabama Plumbers and Gas Fitters Examining Board is focused on the task of consumer protection, and is dedicated to licensing qualified contractors, and otherwise using all resources available to us to promote the business of plumbing and gas fitting.
NASCLA 2018 Board of Directors Mid Year Meeting Overview

The NASCLA 2018 Board of Directors Mid Year Meeting was held on March 7 - 8, 2018 at the NASCLA Association Office in Phoenix, Arizona. This was the first NASCLA Board of Directors meeting held in the new office space build out adjacent to the current NASCLA staff office which was purchased 3 years ago. On Tuesday, March 6th, preliminary meetings were held; the NASCLA Nomination Committee met to discuss nominations for the NASCLA Secretary position for FY 2018/2019. In addition, the first NASCLA Committee Chairs meeting was conducted to allow for committee chairs to discuss their current projects and how they may work together with other committees; this meeting will continue to take place during the NASCLA Board of Directors Mid Year Meetings. Lastly, the NASCLA Executive Committee met to review and discuss the interim business and financial statements of the association as well as review the new NASCLA Strategic Plan for 2017, 2018 and 2019.

On Wednesday, March 7th, the NASCLA Board of Directors along with Committee Chairs attended the 1-Day Educational Training which included a Board of Directors Orientation presented by Angie Whitaker, NASCLA Executive Director, and Reese Anderson, NASCLA Legal Counsel. Following this session, Dale Atkinson, Executive Director of the Federation of Association of Regulatory Boards (FARB), and Margi Grein, Executive Officer of the Nevada State Contractors Board, presented on Occupational Licensing: Assessing State Policy and Practice. Following lunch, the NASCLA Board of Directors and Committee Chairs participated in a ½ day Advocacy Workshop facilitated by Tim Carroll, Director of Communications for MIG, Inc., focusing on developing positive advocacy talking points that justify regulation in construction. It was an intense day full of thought provoking conversation and NASCLA would like the thank everyone in attendance for their participation.

On Thursday, March 8th, the meeting concluded with the NASCLA Board of Directors Meeting in the morning, followed by an Off-Site Networking Event in the afternoon.

Thanks again to all the attendees for volunteering their time and expertise to keep the association in the forefront. It is because of their leadership and participation that we are able to move this association forward and continue to work on the long-term projects.

Executive Director George Whalen has Retired

After an exemplary career of more than 38 years in service to the people of the state of Rhode Island, George Whalen, Executive Director of the Rhode Island Contractors’ Registration and Licensing Board retired on December 23, 2017.

George began his career in state service with the Rhode Island State Building Commission, working as an Architectural Barriers Coordinator for 14 years until being appointed as the Executive Director of the Rhode Island Contractors’ Registration and Licensing Board in 1991. He served as the executive officer of the 15-member Governor appointed Rhode Island Contractors’ Registration and Licensing Board that administers registration, licensing, contractor professional development, and certification programs affecting 12,000 construction businesses. George is a certified eligible building inspector and is currently a member of the Rhode Island Building Officials Association.

George has been involved with NASCLA, as a member of the Board of Directors, for 22 years from 1995 – 2017 and an influential part of the NASCLA Executive Committee as well as other NASCLA Committees over the years which exemplifies his loyalty, compassion and remarkable dedication to NASCLA. He was also a member of the NASCLA Publications, Inc. (NPI) and NASCLA Educational Resources and Publications (NERP) Board of Directors and was Co-Chair of the NASCLA Publications Committee. George led the association as President in 2003 – 2004 and again in 2013 – 2014 where he displayed exceptional leadership; his wealth of history and knowledge has greatly contributed to NASCLA’s success. NASCLA wishes him and his wife Suzanne, much happiness in his well-deserved retirement.

Executive Director Kathy S. LeCroix Announces Retirement

Kathy S. LeCroix, Executive Director of the Alabama Board of Heating, Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Contractors, will retire on May 1, 2018 after 17 years with the HACR Board.

During her time at the Board, she has successfully promulgated rules and implemented the International Code as minimum standards for the HACR industry in Alabama. She has created new enforcement programs that promote public protection and awareness, as well as made a positive impact on the Boards revenues. Kathy received her Juris Doctorate from Cumberland School of Law, Birmingham, Alabama and has over 20 years’ experience in construction industry regulation. She served as the Deputy Attorney General for the Alabama Home Builders Licensure Board and the Alabama Department of Insurance and is Past President of the Alabama Association of Regulatory Boards.

Kathy has been involved with NASCLA, as a member of the Board of Directors, for 15 years from 2003 – 2018 along with being a member of the NASCLA Publications, Inc. (NPI) and NASCLA Educational Resources and Publications (NERP) Board of Directors. She has provided extensive industry knowledge, loyalty, compassion, and impeccable dedication to the association during her time with NASCLA especially during her association presidency from 2007 – 2008. Kathy has also used her legal background to provide leadership as Co-Chair of the NASCLA Model Legislation Committee.

Kathy’s expertise, commitment and presence will be greatly missed by NASCLA and by the residents of Alabama. The NASCLA family congratulates Kathy on her commitment and service to the Board and citizens of Alabama. NASCLA wishes Kathy much happiness in her well-deserved retirement.
Victor (Vic) Weston, 22 year board member of the Louisiana State Licensing Board for Contractors and proud member of NASCLA was awarded the 2018 Most Valuable Professional at the annual UCTA/Underground Construction MVP Awards Banquet on Tuesday, January 30th, during the Underground Construction Technology (UCT) International Conference & Exhibition. Mr. Weston is renowned and revered as a long-term role model for collaboration and support between the construction industry and higher education.

Mr. Weston is president and owner of Baton Rouge, LA, Tri-State Road Boring Inc., a general contracting firm founded in 1975 that specializes in highway drainage and casings, the heavy industrial sector for petrochemical companies, and micro-tunneling and directional drilling throughout the Gulf South states.

A 30-year history of advocating for strong industry-university relations began with Weston’s membership in the Louisiana State Licensing Board for Contractors, a NASCLA State Member. He organized regular meetings with Louisiana Tech University leaders to help them align student/workforce development activities with the needs of the construction industry. Mr. Weston further advanced development activities by bringing major construction industry speakers to Louisiana universities, ensuring students learned from national experts.

Most impressive is his major role in generating millions of dollars of industry support for construction education programs, which also helped to increase national impact and recognition across the nation. This included working with the Louisiana State Licensing Board for Contractors to influence the state legislature to direct surplus board funds to create $1 million Chairs at various universities. Also working with the Louisiana legislature, Mr. Weston and his fellow board members had all Licensing Board fines assigned to the Contractors Educational Trust Fund (CTEF), providing further support of university engineering and construction departments – totaling more than $5 million over the years.

Mr. Weston has proudly served on the NASCLA Accredited Examination Program Committee and Contractors Committee as an advocate for contractors. He was a key contributor in the development of the NASCLA Accredited Examination for Commercial General Building Contractors, the trade portion of the general contractors examination which promotes mobility for candidates seeking licensure in multiple jurisdictions launching in 2009. In addition, Mr. Weston provided the introductory meeting with the National Electrical Contractors Association (NECA) to gain their support in the development of NASCLA’s newest accredited examinations for Electrical Contractors, Journeyman Electricians, and Residential Electrical Contractors within the NASCLA Accredited Electrical Examination Program set to launch in summer 2018.

Mr. Weston has been very active in the Associated General Contractors (AGC) of America and the AGC of Louisiana. He served as the state president in 1992, including 22 years of the Louisiana State Licensing Board for Contractors Board of Directors. Mr. Weston also served on the national AGC executive committee and the executive board.

For all his efforts in supporting the construction industry and education, Mr. Weston was inducted into the Louisiana State University Construction School Hall of Honor. He also serves on the Common Ground Alliance board of directors representing the Associated General Building Contractors (AGC).

NASCLA would like to congratulate Mr. Weston on all of his many accomplishments and thank him for his continued support of the association.
March Means Spring Outreach in Oregon

The Oregon Construction Contractors Board (CCB) staffs a booth at most home shows throughout Oregon and looks for other opportunities to remind the public about using licensed contractors. Here are links to an interview Acting Administrator Stan Jessup recently conducted with a radio home improvement show:

- Part 1 of Stan Jessup’s Radio Interview
- Part 2 of Stan Jessup’s Radio Interview

Realtors are a target audience for the CCB, and the agency in May is scheduled to conduct its first webinar with the Oregon Association of Realtors. We hope the one-hour class reaches Realtors statewide with reminders about who needs to be licensed and how to verify licenses.

“Villians of Oregon’s contracting world look out! Today Eric G talks with the Batman of the Oregon CCB (Construction Contractors Board) Stan Jessup! Stan is Oregon’s CCB Interim Administrator and Enforcement Program Manager, and the man in charge of keeping you, the consumer, from getting ripped off by fraudsters and crooks claiming to be contractors. We find out what it takes to be a contractor, who has to be licensed and why, how to hire a legitimate contractor, and how Oregon’s CCB protects consumers like you when you want to improve your home.”

NASCLA State Member Updates

Jimmy Morgan, Executive Director of the Alabama Plumbers & Gas Fitters Examining Board, has been appointed to the NASCLA Board of Directors following David Wilcox’s retirement on January 1, 2018.

Stan Jessup, Interim Administrator of the Oregon Construction Contractors Board, has been appointed to the NASCLA Board of Directors following Jim Denno’s acceptance as Executive Director for the Oregon Travel Information Council on January 9, 2018.

Dean Simpson, Chief of Compliance & Chief Plumber of the Washington State Department of Labor & Industries, & Plumbing Certification Program has been appointed to the NASCLA Board of Directors after joining NASCLA as a State Member in December 2017.

Jeffrey Becraft, Deputy Director, has been named as the new Executive Director for the Alabama Board of Heating, Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Contractors following Kathy S. LeCroix’s upcoming retirement on May 1, 2018.
NASCLA Accredited Electrical Examination Program

Following the NASCLA 2017 Annual Conference, in late October, the Assessment Systems contract for 3rd party server hosting company for the new NASCLA Accredited Electrical Examination Program was completed and executed by NASCLA Legal Counsel and Staff. Since then, NASCLA Staff has been working continuously in the platform to build the (3) examinations for Electrical Contractors, Journeyman Electricians and Residential Electrical Contractors, loading in examination items, alternate forms, images, and blueprints. Subject Matter Experts (SMEs) have completed their first rounds of pretesting with NASCLA Staff currently in the process of making updates to the examinations to lead to a second round of SME review.

In addition, NASCLA has begun the process to copyright the Job Occupational Analysis, examination items, images and blueprints with the U.S. Copyright Office.

NASCLA is looking to launch the NASCLA Accredited Electrical Examination Program in summer 2018.

NASCLA Accredited Examination for Commercial General Building Contractors

The NASCLA Accredited Examination for Commercial General Building Contractors continues to expand with the Arizona Registrar of Contractors administering the examination as an option in lieu of the state specific trade examinations for the B-1 and B-2 General Commercial Contracting Classifications on November 1, 2017.

NASCLA Staff continues to outreach to the remaining (5) state agencies who offer the commercial classification, sharing information on the job occupational analysis, test specifications and outline.

For more information on the NASCLA Accredited Examination Program, please visit the NASCLA website at www.nascla.org/page/AccreditedExams.
