

You are cordially invited to attend the

NASW–MD Student Conference

Saturday, November 16, 2019

9:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at UMBC

This conference is an opportunity for students in social work programs across the state to gather and network while attending workshops and learning from a panel of social work practitioners in a variety of practice settings. Vendors representing graduate schools (and hopefully a few employers) will be available to answer questions.

This year's keynote speaker is
Dr. Wendy Shaia who will present
If Not Us - Who? The Rebirth of Radical Social Work
