

SOCIAL WORKERS

Are educated- All social workers have at least a bachelor's degree in social work. Most have a master's degree and many have a doctorate. Social workers must be licensed by the state to use the title of 'social worker.'

Are experienced- Social workers take pride in being the only professionals trained to work with people in their environment, looking at all dimensions of the individual's life. Our training comes from a nationwide system of accredited education programs, and is reinforced with practice standards, credentials, and state licensing regulations.

Are everywhere- Ohio is home to more than 22,000 licensed social workers. Nationally, social workers are the largest provider of mental health services (more than counselors, psychologists, and psychiatrists combined!).

Are Diverse- Social workers are trained in a generalist perspective with an emphasis on social justice. After graduation, social workers go on to work in nearly every type of setting from health care, to child welfare, to aging, to community practice, to policy work, and more! Social workers work in more than 100 different practice areas.

Social Workers Help- Every day across the state workers change the lives of individuals, families, and communities

March is Social Work Month - Take time to thank the social workers in your life.

SOCIAL WORKERS

Are educated- All social workers have at least a bachelor's degree in social work. Most have a master's degree and many have a doctorate. Social workers must be licensed by the state to use the title of 'social worker.'

Are experienced- Social workers take pride in being the only professionals trained to work with people in their environment, looking at all dimensions of the individual's life. Our training comes from a nationwide system of accredited education programs, and is reinforced with practice standards, credentials, and state licensing regulations.

Are everywhere- Ohio is home to more than 22,000 licensed social workers. Nationally, social workers are the largest provider of mental health services (more than counselors, psychologists, and psychiatrists combined!).

Are Diverse- Social workers are trained in a generalist perspective with an emphasis on social justice. After graduation, social workers go on to work in nearly every type of setting from health care, to child welfare, to aging, to community practice, to policy work, and more! Social workers work in more than 100 different practice areas.

Social Workers Help- Every day across the state workers change the lives of individuals, families, and communities

March is Social Work Month - Take time to thank the social workers in your life.

SOCIAL WORKERS

Are educated- All social workers have at least a bachelor's degree in social work. Most have a master's degree and many have a doctorate. Social workers must be licensed by the state to use the title of 'social worker.'

Are experienced- Social workers take pride in being the only professionals trained to work with people in their environment, looking at all dimensions of the individual's life. Our training comes from a nationwide system of accredited education programs, and is reinforced with practice standards, credentials, and state licensing regulations.

Are everywhere- Ohio is home to more than 22,000 licensed social workers. Nationally, social workers are the largest provider of mental health services (more than counselors, psychologists, and psychiatrists combined!).

Are Diverse- Social workers are trained in a generalist perspective with an emphasis on social justice. After graduation, social workers go on to work in nearly every type of setting from health care, to child welfare, to aging, to community practice, to policy work, and more! Social workers work in more than 100 different practice areas.

Social Workers Help- Every day across the state workers change the lives of individuals, families, and communities

March is Social Work Month - Take time to thank the social workers in your life.