

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

The National Association of Veterinary Technicians in America (NAVTA) announces the Launch of Veterinary Team Resources; Team + Trust + Training = Team Satisfaction + Quality Patient Care + Profitability, October 15th, 2018.

Research in the healthcare setting has established that creating highly functional, highly coordinated healthcare teams results in more efficient medical care, reduced costs of delivery, improved patient outcomes, and increased workplace satisfaction.

At the foundation of every successful veterinary practice is a successful veterinary team; at the foundation of every successful veterinary team is an environment built on trust and respect. A trusting, well-trained team is able to manage the day-to-day events of veterinary practice—whatever they may be—in a way that leads to positive outcomes for the veterinary practice, the individual members of that team, and the clients and patients in their care. Achieving a highly functional, highly coordinated veterinary healthcare team provides the formula for achieving team satisfaction, quality patient care, and profitability.

NAVTA leaders are excited to bring the new resource to the veterinary healthcare team. Collaborating with Dr. Jason Coe, Rebecca Rose, CVT and professionals at ThinkPartners, the resources focus on team building, career satisfaction, team-centered delivery of patient care and profitability. Resources include a short video, a Team Workbook to help implement Team, Train, Trust exercises, as well as research-based article discussing the importance of training implementation within your hospital.

NAVTA is proud to offer the resources to its members and the veterinary community to improve YOUR team environment.

Please contact your NAVTA District or State Representative for more information regarding the benefits of belonging to NAVTA.

Roll-Out will begin during National Veterinary Technician Week.
