CONSERVE ADVANCES FINANCIAL WELLNESS AT LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL

Educating and Empowering Students to Take Control of Their Financial Health

Rochester, N.Y. –March 18, 2019 – Employees of Continental Service Group, Inc., d/b/a ConServe for the second year, spent the morning at the Ruben A. Cirillo Gananda High School participating in their College and Career Readiness Day to promote financial wellness. The half-day workshop was created to provide high school students with fundamental advice to help them plan for their future. For the ConServe team, it was the perfect opportunity to help educate their community’s youth with information that will empower them to succeed now and after high school.

Audra Marang, the Work Based Learning Coordinator at the Ruben A. Cirillo High School in Gananda, had the following to say about ConServe’s support: "We are excited to have ConServe participate in our College and Career Day to advance our students' knowledge in financial wellness. Our goal is to educate all students for success and partnering with businesses in our community helps our high school students gain real-life insight to better prepare for their future endeavors."

“At ConServe, Fostering Financial Freedom® is a strong component of our corporate mission, vision and values”, said Pamela Murphy, Vice President Ethics & Compliance Officer at ConServe and a workshop presenter. “It’s essential that we educate and empower people to take control of their financial health. That’s why financial wellness is such an important skill, especially for our younger generation.” She continued, pointing out that “by helping to instill the concepts of financial wellness in young adults while they are still in school, we are providing them with the tools they need to achieve their short and long-term goals. It’s a vital investment in their future, and an important part of our commitment to good corporate citizenship. We will continue to support this effort with our Clients, their consumers, and our community whenever possible.”
