ADVOCATE

Nebraska Hospice and Palliative Care Association (NHPCA) kept members informed of state and federal policy and reimbursement issues affecting them, including such things as Hospice Service Intensity Add-on services, Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services' new Primary Care First Seriously III Population payment model, and Nebraska Medicaid's proposed regulation changes related to nursing facility room and board.

NHPCA monitored federal legislation for members, such as the Palliative Care and Hospice Education Act to establish a training program for physicians and other interdisciplinary health care professionals, and the Rural Access to Hospice Act to allow Rural Health Clinics and Federally Qualified Health Centers to receive payment for serving as the hospice attending physician.

Stateside, NHPCA monitored legislation that had the potential to impact members, including a bill that would allow a physician assistant to serve as the attending physician for a hospice patient.

NHPCA members and staff discussed hospice and palliative care with Nebraska's members of Congress in Washington, D.C., as part of the National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization's April Leadership and Advocacy Conference.

In May, NHPCA members met with U.S. Senator

Deb Fischer at Hospice House in Omaha to share their stories and talk about the importance of hospice and palliative care. In July, Senator Fischer was among a bipartisan group of four U.S. senators who launched a caucus to focus on legislation and policy impacting palliative care.

In September, Nebraska Senator Suzanne Geist visited with The Monarch by Eastmont and NHPCA teams to learn more about end-of-life care.

EDUCATE

In March, Nebraska's hospice and palliative care professionals came from across the state for learning and networking at NHPCA's annual conference and trade show.

Five NHPCA members were awarded scholarships from the Galen Miller Memorial Education Fund to attend NHPCA's 2019 conference: Chaplain Darin Corder, Care Manager Ally Hoefer, and Social Worker Cheri Miller of Hospice Community Care; Volunteer Coordinator Jennifer Smith of AseraCare Hospice; and Bereavement Coordinator Kay Ross of Hillcrest Hospice.

As part of NHPCA's efforts to increase online offerings, two educational webinars were held: End-stage Lung Diseases and Their Hospice Management and Hospice Hot Topics.

In December, in partnership with the Department of Veteran Affairs, NHPCA hosted the Nebraska Hospice-Veteran Partnership Annual Workshop and Update. Topics of the day included suicide prevention and how trauma impacts personality.

We value being part of a larger group that advocates on behalf of hospice and end-of-life care across Nebraska.

GIVING THANKS

Words cannot express how grateful NHPCA is for your role in helping us work toward that mission.

The mission of the Nebraska Hospice and Palliative Care Association is to "improve the quality of life for all Nebraskans who have chronic conditions or are near the end of life." Words cannot express how grateful NHPCA is for your role in helping us work toward that mission.

NHPCA's volunteer committee members, board of directors, and staff work in the areas of advocacy, education, and general support to provide Nebraska's hospice and palliative care providers what they need to be successful. As times change, NHPCA changes. We remain flexible to meet providers where they are and how they best receive and need information. The board of directors is continually assessing approaches to delivering education or increasing awareness of hospice and palliative care.

Your financial support allows NHPCA to unite nurses, physicians, social workers, chaplains, volunteers, administrators, educators, and many others in their calling to serve Nebraskans who are seriously ill or at the end of their life. Thank you for your generosity.

Sincerely,

Heath Joseph
