National Institute of Pension Administrators Welcomes New 2017-2018 Director

Chicago — The National Institute of Pension Administrators (NIPA) is pleased to announce that it welcomed a new member to the 2017-2018 NIPA Board of Directors as of September 20, 2017.

Karyn B. Dzurisin, QKA, QPA, will serve as a director on NIPA’s Board of Directors effective September 20, 2017. Dzurisin is a senior business development manager (BDM) for American Funds Distributors, Inc. and leads the team of third-party administrator BDMs across the country. She received a bachelor of science in finance from Illinois State University and holds NASD Series 6, 26 and 63 licenses.

“I am honored to be joining the NIPA Board of Directors, and I am looking forward to increasing my engagement with this amazing organization,” said Dzurisin. “NIPA and American Funds have a shared goal to raise TPA visibility and to help them enhance their businesses, and I am very proud to be a part of both organizations.”

“We are lucky to have a board that is strengthened by its members’ diverse experiences and perspectives,” said Laura J. Rudzinski, executive director of NIPA. “Karyn Dzurisin is an exceptional addition to this group of leaders, and we’re looking forward to seeing the impact they have on the future of NIPA and the broader retirement plan industry.”
