Note of Acknowledgement

I would be remiss if I did not thank two of my classmates, Angel Rocha and Justin Javier, from my cohort in the Postsecondary Educational Leadership and Student Affairs M.A. program at San Diego State University, for their contributions to this post. During the Fall 2016 semester, Angel, Justin, and I collaborated on a project about transfer students, from which I drew some of the ideas and sources in this post. Thank you two for your research and insights!
