Dear Applicant,

The Board of Directors and the Scholarship Committee would like to thank you for your interest in the NSPS Foundation Scholarships. We receive applications from many outstanding candidates and it is encouraging to see the academic success and developing professional interests possessed by these candidates choosing to enter the surveying and mapping profession.

We appreciate the effort it takes to fulfill the application process and would like to offer some guidelines to help you with this endeavor:

- Please read the application carefully and be sure to only apply for the scholarships for which you qualify. Although we can appreciate that you would like to be considered for every scholarship, the donors of these funds have set them up with specific requirements of who may receive them. When an applicant has every box checked and they are not qualified for several of them, it impedes the review process and reflects poorly on their attention to detail in the overall process.

- We often find a well written 1 to 1 ½ page, single spaced, introductory statement of your educational objectives, future plans of study, financial need, etc., is more than sufficient to understand where you are in your educational and professional development. Extra pages may not get the additional attention you may have intended, or hoped for.

- Submitting an application that is 80-90% complete often lowers a candidate’s score, such that an extremely good candidate may not get an award, even though the remainder of the submitted application was outstanding in every way. Take the time to get the application across the finish line and ensure yourself the best chance you can of receiving a scholarship.

- Letters of recommendation can be an outstanding way to obtain additional insight into an applicant’s character and dedication to academic excellence. However, there are situations where there are few academic faculty members to make recommendations and still fewer who have the time to write a thoughtful recommendation. Written recommendations that do not enhance your application, or tell us something that we cannot already see in the academic record or letter of introduction merely check a box for you, but do not raise your score in a meaningful way.

Again, we appreciate your interest and wish you well in your future endeavors.

Sincerely,

The Scholarship Review Committee

2020 NSPS and AAGS Scholarship Program

Each year, through the National Society of Professional Surveyors Foundation, over $30,000 dollars in scholarships funded by a variety of individuals, companies, and organizations are made available to encourage and support college education in geospatial sciences. These scholarships are a great opportunity for college students in surveying, mapping, geographic information systems, and geodetic science programs. The application deadline is January 17, 2020.

Contact information: Scholarships, 5119 Pegasus Court, Suite Q, Frederick, MD 21704; 240-439-4615, ext. 105; fax 240-439-4952; trisha.milburn@nsps.us.com

SELECTION PROCESS
Recipients of scholarships are selected by a Scholarship Committee drawn from the Board of Trustees of the NSPS Foundation, Inc. and other scholarship-funding entities. The committee has the option of awarding no scholarships if its members come to the conclusion that none of the applicants is deserving.

SELECTION CRITERIA
Scholarships will be awarded based on the following criteria:
- 30% academic record;
- 30% applicant's statement;
- 20% letters of recommendation;
- 20% professional activities;
Degree of financial need will be used, if necessary, to break ties, after the primary criteria have been considered.

NOTIFICATION
Selected recipients of scholarships will be notified by letter. In addition, the names of the recipients will be published at www.nsps.us.com, www.aagsmo.org, and in the NSPS News and Views newsletter.
